INVOCATION

Almighty God, bless us that we might strengthen our hearts and minds, to retain the ideals of Rotary and practice them at all times. Let us always hold our ethical standards high in our lives, in our homes, in our work; and ever strive to advance goodwill, in our land and all over the earth. And grant through our faith in our friends, in our clubs, and in You, that our efforts will help us better our lives, and through our lives, better Rotary. Amen

Presidents Message

Pit Senyor!

Welcome to our 18th GMM meeting. As we celebrate the feast of our patron of Cebu our beloved Sr. Sto Nino, we profess our deep reverence and faith to God as depicted in the child Jesus. The feast reminds us that through our devotion and steadfast love for God , we believers hold in our hearts that life’s trials can be surpassed by offering our heartfelt petitions and pleas to our dear Sr Sto Nino.

So let us celebrate His boundless love through Sinulog.

For the month of January, it is Vocational Service month which we started with the distribution of Teddy Bears in SM City Cebu to the special kids with autism. This was in cooperation with SM and Reach Foundation. We still have several lined up projects which will be the distribution of Nebulizer to all provincial hospitals, donation of marker chair in Ayala, water projects and Blue month. We hope we can deliver all projects for the first quarter this year and finish all other projects for the 2nd qtr as well.

We are more than halfway in the Rotary year 2019-2020, we still count on all of your support despite your busy schedule to spare time and support all our remaining club activities and projects.

More power to RCCF! Thank you.

President's message

Dear fellow Rotarians and members of the family of Rotary,

People from all over the world have multiple reasons for joining Rotary. Many new Rotarians each year join for the same reason I did — because Rotary is a great way to benefit your career. When I was a new attorney starting out in Alabama, Gay and I became partners in her father's firm. He instilled in us the value of joining Rotary as a way to build relationships and demonstrate to potential clients that we were serious professionals who held firm to values even more robust than what our profession required.

Rotary's commitment to vocational service is built on the highest ethical standards in business and professions, the recognition of the worthiness of all useful work, and the dignifying of each Rotarian's occupation as an opportunity to serve society. That last point is so important. No matter our profession, we all contribute mightily to the world when we conduct our work with integrity and always adhere to The Four-Way Test.

I have made balancing the demands of Rotary with professional and family commitments one of my priorities as president. No Rotarian should feel pressured to put in more time than a volunteer position should ever demand. This is true for several reasons, one of them being that the work we do in our day jobs is just as important to Rotary as the work we do in the organization. We carry our Rotary values everywhere, and our professional success helps build a case for Rotary every day we go into the office.

This is particularly important in our efforts to reach younger new members. We want to see a Rotary where no one is ever asked to choose between being a good Rotarian and being a good parent, business owner, manager, or employee. When we ask busy young people to join us, we should not be asking them to give up their time and freedom. We should be rewarding them with an experience that makes everything they already do even more inspiring.

Providing greater balance within Rotary will have another benefit as well: It will create opportunities for other Rotarians, including Rotaractors, to step up and take a leadership role on projects and committees. This will ensure that they remain engaged in our clubs and inspired to be Rotarians for life.

Throughout the world, Rotary is admired for its vocational service and for the time-honored values we instill in all business relationships. As we continue our work to grow Rotary, let us remember that vocational service remains a crucial selling point to potential members.

Rotary Connects the World, and by making Rotary's vocational service work known to people in more professions and at different stages of their careers, we will help grow our organization and make it stronger and more diverse.

No matter our profession, we all contribute mightily to the world when we conduct our work with integrity.

President, Rotary International

A message from Foundation Trustee Chair
Gary C.K. Huang

Ni hao, Rotarians!

Something amazing happened in Vienna in October. A runner from Kenya named Eliud Kipchoge was the first person in history to run a marathon distance — 26.2 miles — in less than two hours.

For many years, experts thought this would be impossible. They said the human body was not capable of achieving this feat. But Kipchoge succeeded because he had an incredible team working with him. He had pacers who ran with him every step of the way, and people who made sure that he had the proper fuel and hydration. Every few miles, fresh runners were sent in to keep up the pace and help him reach his goal.

Like Eliud Kipchoge, Rotary has a great support team as we approach the final mile in our marathon journey to rid the world of polio. So many amazing Rotarians have helped pace this effort along the way, donating their time and energies to bring us close to our goal.

The World Health Organization has certified type 3 of the wild poliovirus as eradicated. This is big news! We have also gone three years without any wild poliovirus on the continent of Africa. It may soon be certified polio-free.

The final mile of our journey is a difficult one. Pakistan and Afghanistan are great challenges for us — but we have met so many great challenges before. Every time a goal has seemed out of reach, Rotarians have stood together and answered the call.

This is no time to lose our focus or to think the race is already over. Can you imagine what would have happened to Eliud Kipchoge if all of the pacers had gone home for the final 2 miles? He might never have reached his goal.

It takes a special character to pursue a difficult task all the way to the end. These are the times that we need each other most. In the Tao Te Ching, Laozi wrote that the journey of 1,000 miles begins with one step. But it also ends with one step. And those final steps take just as much courage as the first.

Let's make history, Rotary — the finish line is within reach!

Remember, these grades can be remedially improved by the right feng shui of all properties you own or lease or inherit inclusive of memorial burial sites! And any new acquisition rental, inheritance or selling of property.

Choose feng shui master wisely so as not to be fooled or robbed.

Its also an excellent year for all mothers and mother to be. But a very bad year for eldest sons! And only son.

A Dose of Positive Thoughts

MARICEL BORRROMEO-AMORES GML Editor -In-Chief, District 3860 President, RY 2017-2018

Men by nature would like to take control of their lives. But in reality, we are sometimes governed by the choices and expectations of other people especially those we idolize, honor, respect, and love.

Certainly there are times when you feel that you are living someone else's life and not truly authentic. Take the simple test of buying signature clothes or things with THE BRAND- even if it is your personal choice or you are dressing up for yourself, still the influence of the brand has stitched their way to your persona that nudged you to buy it. However, the control to purchase it or the direct action to buy it gives you the euphoria that you took control and bought it out of your own volition. We then confidently say to ourselves...truly I know who I am because I know what I want ...but can you really predict who you will be ? Unfortunately no ! But only wish and hope that you will become what you want to be. Thus, you take on the journey towards your goal of what you want to become in your life. That is the first step.

*“We know what we are,
but know not what we may be.”*

William Shakespeare

Nonetheless, the major step one needs to take is to control our thinking. Focus on where you want to go and stand by the choices you make. The choices we make on how to react to certain situations will greatly affect your well-being. Always remember the rule- 10% is what happens to us and 90% is how we react to it. But do not fret or feel guilty if once in a while you react badly because as human beings, hormones and emotions get the better of us- we are not programmable robots. When the high tide subsides, give peace to yourself that you have weathered the storm and look forward to the sunshine that will be brighten you
