INVOCATION

Ever-living God, by whose mercy we have come to the gateway of another year, grant that we may enter it with humble and grateful hearts, and confirm our resolution, we beseech you, to walk more closely with you, and labor more faithfully in your service, according to the teaching and example of your Son our Lord. Let not the errors and offenses of the past cling to us, but pardon us and set us free, that with a purer purpose and a better hope we may renew our vows in your presence, and set forth under the guidance of your Spirit to travel in the path that shines more and more unto the perfect day of your heavenly kingdom. Amen.

Quote for the Week

President's Message

Good day Fellow Rotarians!

Look at how time flies, it's already the second half of the current Rotary year. The beginning of the year is always dedicated to vocational service as well as Autism Awareness. And since Autism Awareness is one of our Rotary Club's advocacies, we seized the moment by launching our biggest project of the year, Prism for Autism. The project aimed to promote awareness and understanding of Autism, to make sure that majority, if not all the citizens of Cebu genuinely know and understand the varying spectrum of Autism.

Prism for Autism Project is backed up by month long activities all related to awareness like; distribution of Signs and Symptoms of Autism flipcharts and Posters, Webinar, Town Hall Meetings with Mothers and Children of Barangays, and Radio Ad Placements.

We should have done more for our advocacies but the present condition prevents us to do so. Pandemic is still very much around. Continue to observe health protocols and stay home.

Happy New Year. Keep safe everyone.

JANUARY IS FINALLY HERE. AS we look forward to 2021, our thinking doesn't have to stop at the end of these 365 days. Are you thinking ahead about what you will be doing in 2022, 2023, and beyond?

We cannot foresee the future, but we can steer ourselves where we want to go. I think it is important that every Rotary club hold a strategic meeting at least once a year. Past RI Director Greg Yank, who has a lot of experience working with clubs on their plans, shares his viewpoint.

A famous aphorism states, "By failing to prepare, you are preparing to fail." Planning is essential to achieving success in all areas of life, including Rotary, and we're getting better at it every year.

Strategic planning for Rotary clubs works. I have helped many clubs find that pathway by working with them to build what I call a blueprint, a multiyear plan that answers the fundamental question: "What is our vision for our club?" The best plans I have seen are those that are focused, when a club concentrates its resources on the best opportunities it has. Your Rotary club cannot be all things to its members and to the community it serves; it has limited human, financial, and time resources. A successful plan factors in assets and limitations to chart the desired pathway for your members.

Begin building a multiyear strategic plan by brainstorming with your club, asking, "What are our initiatives and priorities for the next two to three years?" Document your answers using action-oriented language that is specific, concrete, and measurable about the goals you want to achieve.

Next, narrow down your initiatives to a core set of three to five priorities. Your club will then develop specific objectives for each initiative, outlining who will be involved, key milestones of achievement, how progress will be tracked, and a timeline for completion. Keep your plan short and simple.

Then go out and do it. Review the progress you make toward accomplishing the initiatives, and revise as needed at least once a year. Rotary has a solid template to assist clubs in their planning, which you can find at my.rotary.org/document/strategic-planning-guide.

We want to enrich and enliven our clubs with new discussions and ideas. But how do we attract the diverse professionals, from different backgrounds, ages, and experiences, who are all driven by as strong a sense of integrity as we are?

Through strategic planning, we explore this question to define the very nature of our club and the value it offers to its members and to the community. Each club is different, and each club's value will be unique. During the planning process, clubs may also find that some of the activities they used to do are no longer relevant or attractive.

Once your club makes a strategic plan, it's time to take action and carry out the necessary changes. When we do that — as we engage members in vibrant and active clubs that not only have fun but also serve their communities with projects that have real and lasting impact — our clubs grow stronger. And when we discover what makes our own clubs unique and build upon those core values in all our efforts, Rotary Opens Opportunities to enrich the lives of everyone.

TRUSTEE CHAIR'S MESSAGE

The gift of a healthier environment

Having grown up amid lush green forests in the mountainous landscape of Sri Lanka, I always recall the words of the great poet Rabindranath Tagore: "Trees are the earth's endless effort to speak to the listening heaven."

How sad that so often we humans insist on interrupting this conversation.

Just like every other living thing, we are a part of nature. But we are also the only species that bears the responsibility of protecting the environment for future generations. The coronavirus pandemic has shed light as nothing has before on the relationship between environmental degradation and threats to public health.

A few years ago, the government-owned electricity company in my country planned to build a second coal power plant, in eastern Sri Lanka. It would suck 93 million liters of water per hour from a bay where fragile ecosystems meet the deep sea, the site of one of the largest spawning grounds for sperm whales in the world. After processing, those 93 million liters per hour would be dumped into the ocean, now loaded with toxic chemicals that put that marine life at great risk.

Learning from the lessons of the damage caused by the first plant, a coalition formed, made up of many public advocates, including Rotarians. They ran a campaign that alerted the media, the public, and the local community to the potential dangers, in addition to taking legal action. The government eventually abandoned its coal plant idea after the resulting public outcry.

We can truly move mountains when we come together.

When some of us moved to add the environment as Rotary's newest cause, we did so because of the urgency of the problem. In 1990-91, RI President Paulo V.C. Costa set forth a vision, and today we will take this work to the next level. We live in a time of great stress on our environment, of rapidly rising sea levels, massive storms, disappearing rainforests and wildlife, and destructive forest fires. Climate change touches us all, rich and poor.

We will face the challenge strategically, as with the other areas of focus. In fact, the six other areas of focus depend on this one. For what good is it to fight disease if our polluted environment causes us to become sick again?

The Rotary Foundation will be central to this work. More than $18 million has gone toward environment-related global grants in the past five years. Building upon this work to protect the environment, we will give yet another Rotary gift to future generations. And you can be a part of it today.

ORATIO IMPERATA: PRAYER AGAINST COVID-19 or 2019 CORONA VIRUS DISEASE

God our Father,
We come to you in our need
To ask your protection against the 2019 Corona Virus Disease,
That has claimed lives
And has affected many.

We pray for your grace
For the people tasked with studying the nature and cause
Of this virus and its disease
And of stemming the tide of its transmission.
Guide the hands and minds of medical experts
That they may minister to the sick
With competence and compassion,
And of those governments and private agencies
That must find cure and solution to this epidemic.

We pray for those afflicted
May they be restored to health soon.

Grant us the grace
To work for the good of all
And to help those in need.

Grant this through our Lord, Jesus Christ, your Son,
Who lives and reigns with You, in the unity of the Holy Spirit,
God forever and ever. Amen.

Mary Help of all Christians, pray for us.
St. Raphael the Archangel, pray for us.
St. Rock, pray for us.
St. Lorenzo Ruiz, pray for us.

January events

1stRESOLUTIONS START TODAY*Event:

1st Day 5K and 3K Family Walk

Host:Rotary Club of Fair Lawn-Sunrise,
New JerseyWhat it benefits:

Local charities

What it is:

The 19th annual first 5K of the year will be a “virtual race” because of COVID-19, with participants each running the 3.1 miles on their own time and on their own course. Participants can also opt to do the 3K family walk for this event, which is the club’s primary fundraiser.

23rdMOUNTAIN BIKE MANIA*Event:

Stinky Spoke

Host:

Rotary Club of Redmond, Washington

What it benefits:

Local and international charities

What it is:

This 19-plus-mile mountain bike ride earned its name by taking place at a time of year with truly rotten weather. After slogging over muddy, hilly terrain, participants are rewarded with live music, beer, and tasty appetizers. Playing cards are collected along the route for prizes, adding to the fun on what is usually a cold (and often rainy) day.

21st to26thWE HEART ART*Event:

Mornington Art Show

Host:

Rotary Club of Mornington, Australia

What it benefits:

Local charities

What it is:

More than 850 works of art are on display and for sale at the second-largest art show in the state of Victoria. A gala is planned for opening night, and a silent auction also raises significant funds. As with many such events, a COVID-19 backup plan is in place to move the show online if needed.

17thGO FOR THE LONG RUN*Event:

Key West Half Marathon and 5K

Host:

Rotary Club of Key West, Florida

What it benefits:

Local nonprofits

What it is:

This event may take place virtually, depending on the COVID-19 regulations closer to the date. Live or virtual, participants still get to exercise bragging rights for finishing either a half-marathon or a 5K run — it counts no matter where it’s run.

30thFRIENDLIEST CATCH*Event:

Ice Fishing Derby

Host:

Rotary Club of Ely, Nevada

What it benefits:

Scholarships for high school seniors

What it is:

Over the past 20 years, this competition has grown from 60 to 750 participants. Because the mountain lake had been drained for dam repairs, the event did not take place in January 2020, so 2021 is more eagerly anticipated than ever. Cash prizes are awarded for the largest and smallest catches, as well as for other categories.

FOUR QUESTIONS

Return engagement

When clubs cultivate relationships with Rotary alumni, both sides benefit

It's always a pleasant surprise for Rotarians to meet someone who notices their Rotary pin and then to learn that the person was once a Rotary Youth Exchange student or Rotary Scholar. These conversations with Rotary alumni are great reminders of how many lives Rotary has had a positive effect on.

Rotary alumni can also have a positive effect on the organization, and many are looking for ways to reengage with Rotary. Chris Offer, a past governor of District 5040 in British Columbia, has seen firsthand what Rotary Peace Centers alumni can bring to the table. He and his wife, Penny, also a past governor of District 5040, were so impressed with the peace centers program that they established an endowment fund to support it; Offer now serves on the Rotary Peace Centers Committee. And peace fellows are only one part of the community of Rotary program alumni. One of them could make a fantastic speaker at your next meeting, bring valuable expertise to your club project, or be a great addition to your membership.

1 Why engage with program alumni? There's a great opportunity for Rotary clubs to hear firsthand from alumni — whether it's Rotary Peace Fellows, Youth Exchange students, Rotaractors, or Rotary Scholars — about their challenges and successes. They've been there, they've done that, they've worked in the field. They can relate their experiences personally, not in an abstract way. Some alumni have incredible stories about how the experience changed their lives.

2 What is the best resource for contacting peace centers alumni for speaking engagements?

The Rotary Peace Fellowship Alumni Association (rpfaa.org) launched an online database last year. The database is voluntary in terms of who wants to be listed on it, so privacy restrictions aren't an

“Some alumni have incredible stories about how the Rotary experience changed their lives.”

Illustration by Viktor Miller Gausa aren't just potential speakers to a club or at a conference. The database has a brief description of what kind of consulting they can do and where their expertise lies. If you're doing a water project, you may need an engineer. If you're dealing with a peace initiative, you should have someone who can help you avoid faux pas that can arise from cultural differences. Peace fellows bring all sorts of skills and can be a valuable resource.

3 What is the procedure for contacting alumni to speak at meetings or events?

There are no do's and don'ts. Getting hold of most alumni can be more challenging than contacting peace fellows, because we still don't have those types of databases readily available for other alumni. If you want a recommendation for a good alumni speaker, the district alumni chair would be a smart place to start, or any of our youth program chairs. If you're interested in hearing about a vocational training team, you could contact a district grants chair. There are district chairs related to various alumni activities who can help connect you. Keep an eye on who is speaking at other clubs by following them on Facebook and Twitter and be sure to check the social media of the alumni groups. That may give you a lead on a potential speaker.

4 Many clubs have shifted to virtual meetings. How has that changed our engagement with alumni?

Alumni are everywhere around the globe, and with Zoom you can have a speaker from anywhere in the world. People are more available, and alumni are very willing in most cases. Our club had a peace fellow speak to us from London. You could have your Rotary Youth Exchange student talking to you live from a foreign country instead of sending a letter. Whenever the “new normal” finally arrives, one of the legacies for Rotary clubs will be having remote speakers.

— PAUL ENGLEMAN

Rotary's alumni relations team is always ready to help you connect with alumni and answer your questions about engaging them in your club or district projects. Write to alumni@rotary.org.

TRIBUTE

Renaissance man

Remembering 1996-97 RI President
Luis Vicente Giay

By K.R. Ravindran

Luis Vicente Giay, the 86th president of Rotary International, has gone, leaving us with wonderful memories. He was adored by the Rotary world and was the doyen of South American Rotary. A man of great wisdom and a huge capacity to love others, he used to say, "Civilization is like a big building made out of bricks, thousands and thousands of bricks. Each of us is a brick supporting the grand structure we call humanity." That's why his theme was Build the Future with Action and Vision. He actually distributed a brick to each of his district governors.

Luis and I shared a love of rally car racing. He was very good and became a champion at a high level of competition. The story goes that at the starting grid at one of his races, he saw a bright young woman with brown eyes and long hair in the next car, navigating for her father. Luis used to say that in that second he knew this woman was going to become his wife. He never told me whether he won or lost that race with such a distraction.

Celia, vivacious and charming, has distinguished herself in her own right, as a teacher, a music professor, a journalist, and the 2014-15 vice president of Rotary International, a position she achieved with the unyielding support of her devoted husband. They made a dashing couple.

Luis' career in Rotary began when he became a member of the Rotary Club of Arrecifes, the town where he was born, near Buenos Aires. He was 22 years old; at that time, most of the other members were old enough to be his father or even his grandfather.

When I first met Luis in 1993, I recognized in him the qualities of a born leader and a complete man: his deep knowledge of Rotary; his ability to quickly assess a person and adjust to that person's level; his superb speaking skills in English, Spanish, and Portuguese; and his unmatched social skills — adroit on the piano, deft at the barbecue, and light on his feet on the dance floor.

was a leader. He was not a pessimist who complains about the wind, nor an optimist who expects the wind to change, but a leader who adjusts his sails to the wind. I used to call him El Capitán.

When Luis was nominated as president, he put me on the committee to develop his theme. The chair of the committee was Past RI Director Howard Vann and the vice chair was Past RI President Paulo Costa. I saw the masterful way Luis steered the committee without usurping the position of the chair. It was also good to see the great friendship between Paulo and Luis. When Paulo was president, Luis had served as his aide.

When I served on the Board of Trustees of The Rotary Foundation in 2006, Luis was chair, and he put me on the Investment Committee. After the first meeting, I went up to him and asked to be relieved from the committee, as it was much too complex for me. He said, "When you become president, you will need to know about investments. So stay there and learn the subject!"

When Luis was president, the chair of the Foundation Trustees was Raja Saboo. Those two made a powerful team: They were the original architects of the Rotary Peace Centers, and they were in South Africa with Nelson Mandela to launch the Kick Polio Out of Africa campaign. Luis also steered the Future Vision Committee of the Foundation for several years. He had a clear vision of what was needed and where the Foundation should go.

He was one of three past presidents on whom I relied heavily when I was president. He never failed me with his advice and assistance — and I recall his turning up at my apartment one evening with two bottles of very special malbec wine he had carried from Argentina!

There was a gentleness about Luis, a largeness of sensibility, a love for fellow Rotarians that was felt by all those who came into contact with him. He and Celia brought a glow to the presidency of Rotary, a breath of fresh air, and a pause for beauty and love. Hasta la vista, El Capitán! We will miss your cherubic face and your disarming smile.

K.R. Ravindran is the chair of the Trustees of The Rotary Foundation. He served as RI president in 2015-16.

President, RY 2017-2018

Welcome to a brand-new year -2021!!! Do not wallow on the misfortunes of yesterday because you have 365 brand new days to start over again. Take life one day at a time and count the “wins” you had for that day. Learn to appreciate the opportunities given to you. Hence, from the moment you wake up, take it as is a blessing and a chance to start over again. You are the architect of your life so make a decision to do good for that day. If it fails or it does not go in the direction you want it to go, it is okay because you have tomorrow to rethink your moves again.

No matter what yesterday was like,
birds always start
the new day with a song.

Facebook.com/DoreenVirtue444

Honor every day as the start of your fresh, enhanced, and happier life. Turn every day of the year with a mindset of excitement and with the keenness that amazing and delightful things are waiting to happen.

If you failed to carry out your goals, you do not need the New Year to make a new resolution. There are no explicit rules that you cannot change your resolutions. There are no limits!!!

Of course, you do not ignore the lessons you learned every time you fall but do not let your history deter you to pursue your destiny.

Sing a new song for the new goals for the new resolutions. Thus, when the new sunrise begins for you, just get on your feet and keep in mind the things that matters most. Set your compass to the true North that gives you happiness, peace, love and joy!!!

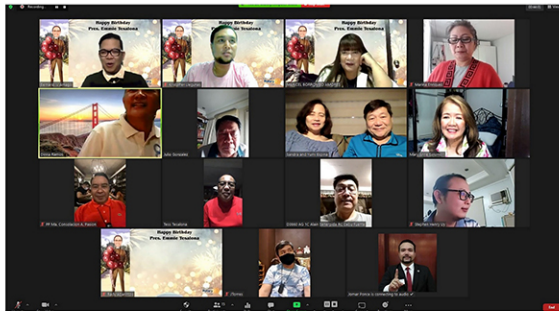

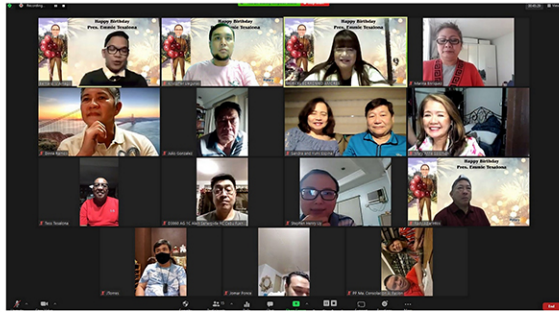

TODAY IS A NEW A DAY!

Don't let your history interfere with your destiny.
It doesn't matter what you did or where you were.
It matters where you are and what you're doing.
Get out there. Sing the song in your heart and NEVER LET ANYONE SHUT YOU UP.
