INVOCATION

Today, as we come to you in our needs. Create in us an awareness of the massive forces that threaten our world today and grant us a sense of urgency to activate the forces of goodness of justice of love and of peace.

We also pray that you will make us aware of the need to be more charitable. As this is the primary reason for our being Rotarian.

Finally, keep and hold us in Your loving embrace throughout the years. Amen

President's Message

Today is the classification talk of the latest addition to our Rotary family. For the record, all Rotary members has each own individual classification. This is to create diversity among members of the club.

Rotary believes that a club which embraces diverse perspectives has more chances of success than the club whose members belong to the same age bracket, ethnicities and professions. Using this line of argument, the club can easily generate interests from different types of people if membership is diversified.

Rotary membership should be as diverse as the community where the club belongs.

AS SOMEONE WHO KNOWS firsthand the great leadership potential of Rotaractors, I always look forward to World Rotaract Week, which we are celebrating from 8 to 14 March. Rotaractors are the focus of all three of my presidential conferences this year, and I was proud when, two years ago, the Council on Legislation voted to elevate Rotaract by including Rotaract clubs as members of Rotary International. Before that, the Council had already made dual membership possible, and shortly after, the Board of Directors decided to do away with Rotaract's age limits.

But we are only just embarking on our journey together. Partnering effectively doesn't happen by itself. It requires both sides to be open and to understand the value of cross-generational alliances. Louie De Real, a dual member of Rotaract and Rotary, explains.

Joint virtual meetings have helped Rotaractors introduce Rotarians to new ideas and tools, pioneering unique ways for clubs to collaborate. In the case of pandemic and disaster response, Rotaract clubs used social media to coordinate efforts, drive information, and fundraise, while Rotary clubs used their networks and resources to amplify support, provide logistics, and bring the goods and services to communities.

Rotaractors' innovative virtual engagement and professional development activities inspired Rotarians to support and follow suit. The pandemic made Rotaract clubs realize that we can immediately connect and partner with Rotary clubs through virtual platforms. With constant collaboration, we realize that Rotary and Rotaract indeed complement each other — that we are part of a single organization with shared goals.

Both sides add value. Rotarians can be mentors and service partners to Rotaractors, while Rotaractors can demonstrate to Rotarians that difficult jobs can be simplified and limitations can be surpassed through digital approaches. This synergy motivates Rotaractors to become future Rotarians: I joined Rotary because Rotarians gave me memorable membership experiences through inspirational moments of collaboration. I needed to be a Rotarian to inspire Rotaractors the same way, now and in the future.

That same synergy leads Rotarians to realize that while Rotaractors may have a different culture, we all share a common vision of uniting people to take action. Rotaract's unique ways of doing things serve as inspiration for innovation, helping Rotary increase its ability to adapt to future challenges. Rotarians and Rotaractors will build the future together, so let's start today.

I see no difference between a Rotary club and a Rotaract club, except perhaps for the average age!

Many Rotarians still view Rotaract as our youth organization, but I see it differently. For me, they are part of us, and they are like us. To be successful together, we need to have mutual respect — to see each other as equals. Let's see Rotaractors for who they really are: students and young leaders, but also successful managers and entrepreneurs who are capable of planning, organizing, and managing a Rotary institute — including breakout sessions in five languages — as they did in Berlin in 2014.

As we take this journey together, let's remember the strengths of Rotary and Rotaract. And, as Louie says, let's get started right away in building the future together. In doing so, we open endless opportunities for our organization.

TRUSTEE CHAIR'S MESSAGE

Challenge and opportunity

One year ago this month, the World Health Organization declared COVID-19 a pandemic. As I write these words, the coronavirus continues to wreak havoc: taking lives, choking economies, and changing our societies in myriad ways. It has disproportionately hurt the poor and worsened inequalities.

Even as some countries have done better than others in controlling this deadly disease, the rapid development of vaccines is bringing us closer to the end of our strange new reality of social isolation.

This dark chapter in our history is also an opportunity for Rotary, because it reminds us of the impact we can have through The Rotary Foundation if we commit to helping others and live up to our highest ideals. It reminds us of the truly international spirit that we must embody to recover from this moment.

During the COVID-19 pandemic, we have witnessed compassion and sacrifice, friendship and resilient good humor. I am reminded of that famous insight popularized by John F. Kennedy: "When written in Chinese, the word crisis is composed of two characters: One represents danger, and one represents opportunity."

Working together, we have done so much to adapt to the COVID-19 pandemic, to care for our communities, and to seize the opportunity to be a part of perhaps the most complex task ever undertaken in history — vaccinating 7 billion people.

This does not mean we will deviate in any way from our avowed commitment to eradicating polio, which remains our highest priority and will continue to be our only corporate program.

On the contrary, while continuing polio vaccinations and surveillance, we can apply all our experience in fighting polio to counter COVID-19. We all have a part to play in combating the growing force of vaccine resistance and misinformation. Our advocacy in our communities will be critical — we need to spread the message about the power of vaccines to save lives. We need to work closely with governments and support them in the vaccination drive. We need to add to the more than 3,000 projects already registered on Rotary Showcase to raise awareness, deliver critical personal protective equipment, and support frontline health workers.

As Aristotle said, human beings are social animals, and while COVID-19 has cruelly deprived us of our natural or habitual environment, it does not prevent us from finding connections and helping others in new ways. As you will see in the coming months, Rotary members are already finding the means to channel their humanitarian spirit through the Foundation, which is constantly adapting to address the world's challenges. Every Rotarian has a role in this effort, and you will find that however you choose to help others and make lasting change, you are not alone.

FIVE QUESTIONS

Leading by example

by Anna Bumagat

1 What is your response to Incoming President Shekhar's call on 'each one, bring one'? How realistic or attainable is this goal?

Bringing in one new member is the responsibility of each Rotarian. It is the responsibility of each club member to retain that new Rotarian. Those of us who are already enjoying the benefits of Rotary membership must support its growth goal. We must share the gift of Rotary to others.

2 What will you do to realize Incoming President Shekhar's call for clubs to launch high-impact projects?

District 3860 has been doing its One District Activity for several years already: a district-wide activity participated in by Rotarians, members of our families, Rotaractors, Interactors and project partners. Every July, we do a "One District, One Bloodletting Day" with our local Philippine Red Cross chapters. In August, we have a One District, One Mangrove Planting and Tree Growing activity with our respective CENROs or MENROs from the DENR. We light up our cities Pink for our "One District, One Pink October" to promote breast cancer awareness. We do Zumba sessions, talks, forums, fashion shows, and raise funds for underprivileged women to get free breast scans. We ramp up our End Polio public image initiatives to promote oral polio vaccination. We will elevate all these to meet the Rotary Days of Service criteria and achieve greater impact.

3 How would you assess the present level of involvement of women in Rotary in your district? What will you do to promote diversity, equity and inclusion (DEI) in Rotary?

Women leaders are taking on leadership positions both at the club and district levels: young, energetic, engaged, and goal-oriented. I am amazed at our women leaders' boldness, enthusiasm and determination to make things happen. I am the youngest and the third Lady Governor of the District and I will be succeeded by another Lady Governor in the person of DGN Lili Aliño. I welcome the wide acceptance, support and confidence being extended by our fellow Rotarians to women leaders in our district.

DEI needs to be promoted in all levels from the top to the grassroots level. I am urging all of our clubs to undertake the Diversity Assessment tool so they could evaluate their status, raise members' awareness, build member support, and work towards broadening the club's constituency to represent different backgrounds and viewpoints. Clubs must own and embrace the DEI advocacy with enthusiasm.

4 What will you do in terms of "empowering girls"?

We will actively promote the following initiatives:

- In the time of COVID-19, conduct Peer-to-Peer Learning in small communities to ensure school-aged girls continue with their education supplemented by a public image campaign.
- Workshops on empowering girls on mental health: how to create a safe space, developing a growth mindset, navigating peer pressure, and connecting with female role models
- Support girls in crisis—equipping local professionals by providing training on counseling
- Provide mentorship by reaching out and positively influencing our Rotary club scholars, household helpers, or students in a local high school, college or university.
- Conduct skills training for marginalized girls so they are equipped and start a livelihood.
- Reach out to women in our family, workplace, or business, and telling them we care.

5 What does the theme "Serve to Change Lives" mean to you personally? How will you live up to this theme as District Governor?

The theme reflects what I love most about Rotary—to serve. When I joined Rotary, I was attracted to the service component, having observed my father in Rotary action in the 90's. The more I got involved in club projects, the more I found myself finding my life's passion and purpose as I volunteer my time and skills whenever possible. I am extremely delighted that Incoming President Shekhar highlighted Service as the world needs Rotary now more than ever. As a District Governor, I will inspire and motivate clubs, leading by example that to serve and change lives requires unequivocal determination and commitment—and not just lip service.

PRESIDENT RY 2017-2018

Listening and responding effectively to someone makes a lot of difference in that person's life. It tantamount to being respectful and diplomatic.

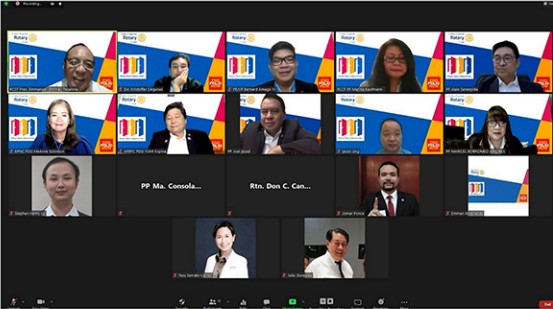

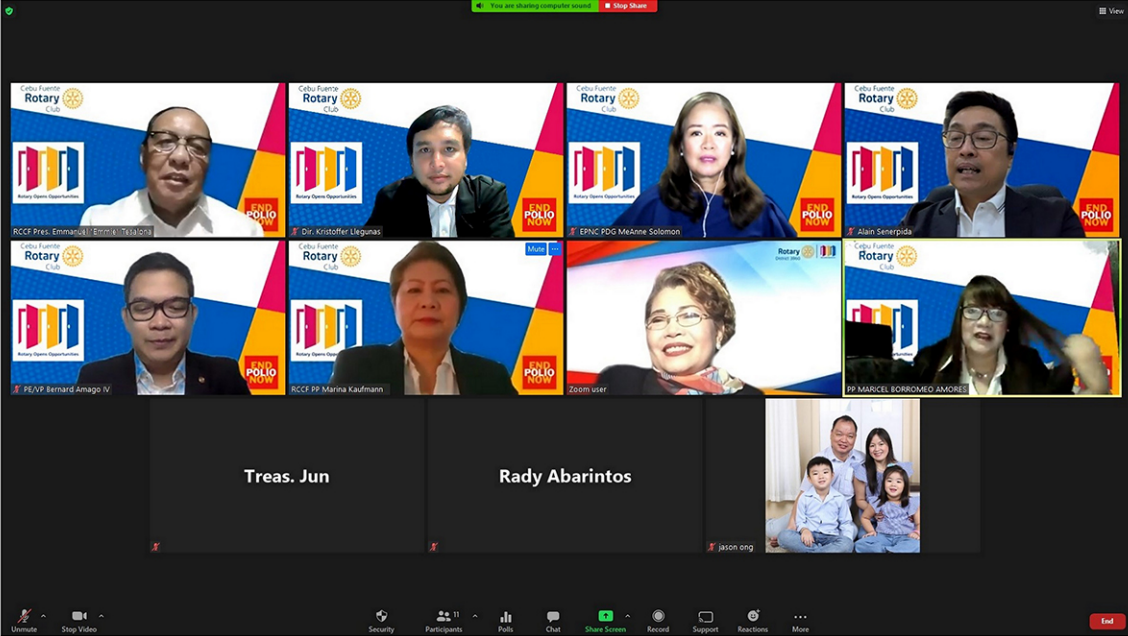

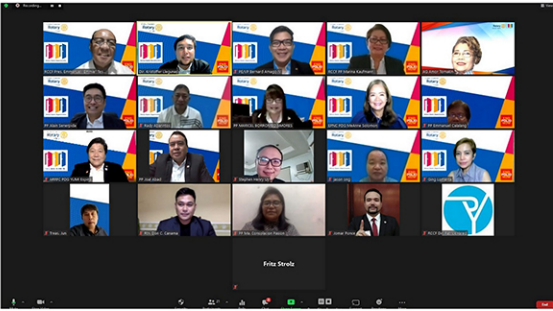

Let those around believe they each have something worthwhile sharing. Be generous and give them your full attention, and ensure the free and open flow of communication and ideas.

Here is one success story when someone did not listen so well. A trip to Milan gave a young marketer working for a Seattle coffee bean roaster an idea for upscale espresso cafes like they have all over Italy. His employer had no interest in owning coffee shops but agreed to finance. Howard Schultz's endeavor. They even sold him their brand name, and that is Starbucks. By not listening effectively, they missed the chance and opportunity that Howard was trying to tell them.

Use the 80-20 rule when you are conversing with another person. Keep Quiet 80% of the time. Let your partner speak 80% of the time, while you speak 20% of the time. When speaking, try to get more information so you truly capture your partner's message. Always seek to understand your partner's idea or stand. The end result is less conflict and better understanding.
