Happy Holidays!

Christmas is already around the corner and we can almost taste the sumptuous feast made special by family gathering and gift giving. So let us devote this meeting tonight to prepare for our hybrid Christmas Party so it will be meaningful and memorable.

On another note, December commemorates the Disease Prevention and Treatment as an Area of Focus for Rotary. We have conducted several projects on this area considering our advocacy for Autism and Breast Cancer Awareness. Further, our daily struggle with the COVID-19 virus is a constant reminder to us all about the need to prioritize health and prevent the onset of any disease. Hence, let us continue to stay vigilant and religiously comply with the mandated health protocols.

Thanks and kind regards,

GREETINGS, DEAR CHANGEMAKERS OF ROTARY,

Public health is on everyone's mind due to the global pandemic that still threatens the safety of ourselves and our loved ones. In a sense, COVID-19 has made all of us much more aware of the roles and responsibilities of medical professionals than we were before we had to wear masks and maintain social distance. In addition, while moving through this pandemic, we have also learned about the role we can play in keeping others safe.

December is Disease Prevention and Treatment Month in Rotary. The pandemic unfortunately has schooled most people on the toll that disease takes on our communities. But fighting disease is something that Rotarians around the world have been doing for decades. In fact, it is one of Rotary's seven areas of focus.

As Rotarians, we believe that good health and well-being is a human right — even though 400 million people across the globe do not have access to essential health services. The work we do in establishing clinics, eye hospitals, and blood banks, as well as in building infrastructure for medical facilities in underserved communities, all returns to a central belief that access, prevention, and education are the keys to stopping deadly outbreaks that harm the most vulnerable.

My exposure to health work began with my Rotary club, Calcutta-Mahanagar. There, among other things, I helped pioneer a program called Saving Little Hearts that over the years has provided more than 2,500 free heart surgeries for children from India, Pakistan, Bangladesh, Nepal, and Africa. Before the program went international, it started locally with the goal of performing just six surgeries within our community. Today, our goal is to complete another 20,000 surgeries over the next five years.

The world relies on Rotary to tackle challenges like these and to set an example for others. Over the past decade, medical professionals and government workers have provided free health services to 2.5 million people in 10 countries during Family Health Days, which are organized by Rotarians around the world. Similar health camps in India also provide thousands of surgeries to those in need. Medical missions from India to Africa each year are an excellent example of hands-on service in disease prevention and treatment. Rotary members can also get involved at a local level; clubs in the United States and Mexico, for example, fund a free health clinic in Guerrero, a small town in Mexico.

And of course, our effort to eradicate polio is by far the best story in civil-society health care.

This month, think about how your club can focus on preventing and fighting disease. This is the time to take a bigger, better, bolder approach through both club and district projects that can impact more people. Re-evaluate where you are with your goals. Create strategies that can sustain change over years, not months.

Everyone deserves a long, healthy life. When you Serve to Change Lives, your actions today can help extend the lives of others.

TRUSTEE CHAIR'S MESSAGE

Together, we can reach our goals

December marks a special time of year. It's a time of holiday gatherings and family reunions (COVID-19 permitting). It's also the halfway point of the Rotary year, when we look back on our goals, reflecting on the what and the why of our work.

First, the what. This year, to stay on course to reach our goal, we need to raise $50 million for PolioPlus, with a 2-to-1 match by the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation bringing the total to $150 million. To keep our Rotary Foundation programs running strong, we set a goal to raise $125 million for the Annual Fund. We also aim to raise $95 million for the Endowment Fund in outright gifts and new commitments, and a further $40 million for other outright gifts.

So how do we reach our grand total of $410 million? We must remember that in all great endeavors, including Rotary, we are part of a TEAM: Together, Everyone Achieves More.

You can't have a great team without great PEOPLE. P stands for pride in our organization, our achievements, and our potential. E is our empathy for others, which we transform into service. O has two parts: the tremendous opportunities to make a difference that Rotary has granted us, and an obligation to pull others up and to increase our ranks. Our second P is for perseverance, helping us stick to our goals, like polio eradication, when the going gets tough. L stands for leadership, and E for enthusiasm — the fuel of Rotary.

While we are revisiting our goals, we also need to remember the why. For me, this needs little explanation. Why wouldn't you help expectant mothers and their children survive and thrive by supporting a Rotary Foundation grant? And why wouldn't you initiate programs to help preserve the environment, our cherished home? The pandemic has only renewed my conviction that life is precious, and we must seize every opportunity to enhance the lives of others.

You are one of the PEOPLE on our TEAM. I encourage you this month to join other leaders who participate in Rotary's strong tradition of philanthropy by making a gift to The Rotary Foundation. It is the season of giving, and every gift counts. Please contribute any amount that feels right by 31 December, and your gift will keep on giving in 2022 and for years to come. There are many ways to give, as a club or an individual — why not set up a giving plan?

The Rotary Foundation offers us countless opportunities to help make a difference in the world. Let us never squander those opportunities, nor take our Foundation for granted.

Judy and I wish you the happiest of holidays.

SERVICE ABOVE SELF

THE OBJECT OF ROTARY

The Object of Rotary is to encourage and foster the ideal of service as a basis of worthy enterprise and, in particular, to encourage and foster:

First The development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service;

Second High ethical standards in business and professions, the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations, and the dignifying of each Rotarian's occupation as an opportunity to serve society;

Third The application of the ideal of service in each Rotarian's personal, business, and community life;

Fourth The advancement of international understanding, goodwill, and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional persons united in the ideal of service.

THE FOUR-WAY TEST

Of the things we think, say, or do:

1. Is it the truth?
2. Is it fair to all concerned?
3. Will it build goodwill and better friendships?
4. Will it be beneficial to all concerned?

ROTARIAN CODE OF CONDUCT

The following code of conduct has been adopted for the use of Rotarians:

As a Rotarian, I will

1. Act with integrity and high ethical standards in my personal and professional life
2. Deal fairly with others and treat them and their occupations with respect
3. Use my professional skills through Rotary to: mentor young people, help those with special needs, and improve people's quality of life in my community and in the world
4. Avoid behavior that reflects adversely on Rotary or other Rotarians
5. Help maintain a harassment-free environment in Rotary meetings, events, and activities, report any suspected harassment, and help ensure non-retaliation to those individuals that report harassment.

The Rotary Foundation would like to THANK YOU

Thank you for your generous support of The Rotary Foundation Endowment. Your simple act of sacrifice provides children access to clean drinking water, young girls the opportunity to attend school, communities the ability to invest in vital economic development, and our children and grandchildren hope for a healthier planet.

We see the work you do and how you prioritize giving to others. We honor your work with Rotary and THANK YOU!

TWINKLE TWINKLE

Event: Festival of Lights
Host: Rotary Club of Aurora, Illinois
What it benefits: Local and international organizations
What it is: For most of December, the road through Phillips Park will be illuminated with thousands of dazzling lights, arranged in festive holiday tableaux. Plan ahead: You must reserve a time slot in advance to drive through the park. The event is free to all; funds generated through sponsorships or in-kind donations will go back to the community after costs are covered.

4th

RAISE A GLASS

Event: Brewfest
Host: Rotary Club of Sebastian, Florida
What it benefits: Local projects, such as improvements to a community park
What it is: This inaugural Brewfest will take place on the weekend of the town's Christmas parade and tree lighting. Tickets include unlimited beer tasting, and there will also be pints of limited-edition craft brews available for purchase.

PANCAKES WITH THE BIG GUY

Event: Breakfast with Santa
Host: Rotary Club of Chanhassen, Minnesota
What it benefits: Student scholarships and local projects
What it is: This annual breakfast features pancakes, a photo op with Santa and his reindeer, an online photo contest, and the chance to win a fully decorated Christmas tree. The event will be held as scheduled — if required by local health guidelines, it will be converted from an in-person to a drive-through event. Advance registration is required.

READY, SET, HO HO HO!

Event: 5K Santa Run
Host: Rotary Club of Paw Paw Area, Michigan
What it benefits: Local projects and The Rotary Foundation
What it is: Anyone can join in this untimed family fun run. Show up early for the pre-race party atmosphere, with runners donning Santa suits, enjoying live music, and noshing on provided snacks. In the names of the top finishers, the club will make a donation to the Foundation, directed toward the water, sanitation, and hygiene area of focus.

2022, WHAT WILL YOU DO?

Event: New Year's Eve Party in the Park
Host: Rotary Club of Fiordland, New Zealand
What it benefits: Local projects
What it is: Ring in the new year with a family-friendly celebration held outdoors. A band or a DJ will kick off the night around 9 p.m.; a bonfire will keep everyone at the park nice and toasty. Food will be available, and fireworks will celebrate the start of 2022.

#Colorsfor2ndChance: Part II November 26, 2021

Supports Operation Second Chance through a noble project Colors for Second Chance that aims to rehabilitate the child at risk (term used for minor offenders) through basic literacy that they could study while they are in house or color the walls to create an environment of hope.

The Cebu City "Operation Second Chance" Center is a center for minors who are in conflict with the law. They stay in that place for a matter of months depending on the crime that they have committed.

#SECONDCHANCE was built by the government exclusively for this purpose; to keep these young people from doing crimes on the streets and to show them the value of life and how they should live life accordingly.

Reams for your Dreams: Rewind with Paril Elementary School and REACH Center Cebu last November 26, 2021

The Rotary Club of Cebu Fuente supports modular distance learning through the project #REAMSforYourDREAMS

Rewind 2021- donation of reams of bond paper, education interventions that will enable students to continue learning and teachers to deliver instruction through modules.

RECAP RECALL: One of the sectors most shaken by the Covid-19 pandemic is education, affecting the lives of students in the country since March 2020. Schools have closed and face-to-face classes have been suspended in an attempt to stem the spread of Covid19.

Disrupted face to face learning has paved its way to Modular Learning. hence, it gave birth to this project last 2020 and carried over this year.

FOUR QUESTIONS

Women and polio

Why it's important to consider gender at all levels of eradication work

Heather Monnet
External relations officer and gender focal point for polio eradication, World Health Organization

1 How do issues surrounding gender create barriers to polio eradication?
Our ultimate objective is to reach every last child with a polio vaccine. The role of the mother and father in reaching those children is very important, and we must understand the dynamics between them in order to achieve our goal. For example, a mother may want to have her child vaccinated, but that would require her to spend a day walking to a health center or market — and she might not be able to do that unless she gets permission from her husband. Or if her child falls ill and experiences paralysis in the arm or leg, the mother might have to seek permission from her husband to take the child to the health center. There could be a delay of several days that would affect our ability to take stool samples and determine whether that child has polio or not.

2 Do more boys than girls receive vaccines?
On a global level, there is very little discrepancy between reaching boys and girls. You also see a more or less equal distribution of cases of polio between boys and girls. But the global statistics can mask disparities at the local level. We know that we have communities that are not being reached; we need to understand why we're not reaching them. Gender plays a huge role in both supply of and demand for immunization. Who is providing the immunization — a man or a woman? Who is the decision-maker — mom or dad? And how do the immunizer and the decision-maker work together?

3 What are the key points in the gender strategy you helped develop for the Global Polio Eradication Initiative (GPEI)?
The polio program has typically engaged women as frontline health workers because in some cultures, mothers are more likely to open the door to a female vaccinator. But women should not just be part of the delivery of the program. They should also be part of its design; they should be supervisors and team leads, and hold positions at the district level to make sure we are meeting the needs of communities. We also need to understand why we have trouble retaining female vaccinators. We want them to keep working with us.

We must look at our data in a way that allows us to understand the program better and to see where there may be gaps. Collecting and analyzing sex-disaggregated data will help us to understand if gender-related barriers are preventing us from reaching zero-dose children — children who have not received any vaccines — and to refine the way we plan campaigns in those countries.

The GPEI's new strategy places a huge focus on community engagement. We're looking at the supply and demand sides in communities. How do we create a demand that ensures that parents want to take their children to be immunized? We need to make sure that the offered immunization services are acceptable to parents.

4 Besides gender, are there strategies that focus on other types of diversity?
We're also looking at engaging people with disabilities. And gender also covers economic status: A lot of gender disparities are much more pronounced at different economic levels as well as in different ethnic and age groups. For example, the decision-making power of women in developing countries who are not educated is more limited, which will impact their ability to make health care decisions for the family. All of those things interact.

In the last mile of eradication, we need to leave no stone unturned to understand which children we are missing and why. Looking at gender is one more way to make sure that we're reaching all children. Fathers have just as much of a role to play as mothers. How do we overcome barriers, so that men are engaged in the decision-making process and so that they allow their children to be immunized?

Rotary is so well-positioned to be a lead on gender. It isn't a women's issue — it's everybody's issue.
