Good evening, esteemed RCCF Rotarians,

In the remaining months of my tenure as your current President, our focus remains steadfast on key initiatives and upcoming events that will shape the future of our club.

As we approach this transition period, it is crucial that we maintain our commitment to service and uphold the values that define Rotary. Together, we will continue to make a tangible difference in our community and beyond.

In these final months, we will prioritize our efforts towards events such as DISCON, PETSETS, and DTA. These gatherings not only provide opportunities for fellowship but also serve as platforms for us to further our impact through collaborative projects and initiatives.

Furthermore, we must not forget the important task of preparing for President Elect Patrick Yared's term. The pictorial session with his line of officers, as well as the general membership, is an essential part of this preparation. This pictorial will capture the spirit and unity of our club as we transition leadership, ensuring a smooth and impactful start to President Yared's term.

Additionally, we will continue to support Rtn. Tootsie's efforts in organizing the significant medical mission, ensuring that despite the paperwork hurdles, our commitment to serving those in need remains strong.

As I reflect on the remaining months of my tenure as President, I am grateful for the dedication and passion each of you has brought to our club. Your support has been instrumental in our success, and I have full confidence that under the leadership of President Elect Patrick Yared, our club will continue to thrive.

Let us embrace these final months with enthusiasm and determination, knowing that together, we can achieve great things and leave a lasting impact on our community.

Thank you for your continued dedication and commitment to Rotary.

Yours in Rotary Service,

Think like a Rotary Peace Fellow

There are many pathways to peace, and in Rotary, we are fortunate to have Rotary Peace Fellows who demonstrate this truth time and again.

Each year, Rotary awards up to 130 fellowships for leaders around the world to study peace and development, and what these peace fellows learn prepares them to work in conflict prevention and resolution and promote Positive Peace. Here are a few examples of the creative ways peace fellows advance peace:

Promoting sustainability

Alejandra Rueda-Zarate combined her Rotary Peace Fellowship in peace and conflict resolution with her master's degree in energy and resources to support her dream of protecting the Colombian countryside.

She founded the organization NES Naturaleza in 2011 to help farmers in Colombia and across rural Latin America gain access to knowledge and training to uphold sustainable farming standards. That support has improved the lives of nearly 4,500 farmers, inspiring many of them to become entrepreneurs. And it's helped promote both natural and social sustainability throughout Latin America.

Ending racism

Peace fellows Geoffrey Diesel and Kathy Doherty have applied their fellowships in peace and development studies toward co-founding the Racial Equity Project, a subcommittee of Rotary Positive Peace Activators in North America committed to studying ways to create a more peaceful society through anti-racism efforts.

The Racial Equity Project takes a deep look into how the eight Pillars of Positive Peace could support efforts to address racism, and it works to spread this message to communities across North America. The organization initially grew from Rotary's strategic partnership with the Institute for Economics and Peace, a global think tank dedicated to promoting Positive Peace.

Managing disasters using data

Through a Rotary Peace Fellowship, Jamie LeSueur earned a master's degree in social science within peace and conflict research. He now leads emergency operations for the International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies, setting a management and operational framework for agency collaboration in emergency response situations.

Jamie has found that research data is a powerful tool to bring calm to the complex world of disaster response. No matter what an organization's protocols might entail, letting research be the foundation for decision making helps clarify even the most complicated emergencies.

These stories — and hundreds like them — show how Rotary is creating a generation of leaders ready and able to build peace worldwide. Nearly 1,800 peace fellows have graduated from Rotary Peace Centers, and they are applying their craft in more than 140 countries.

May the continuing work of peace fellows and the Rotary members who support them inspire you to continue to Create Hope in the World through service, fundraising, and creative thinking.

TRUSTEE CHAIR'S MESSAGE

More than a basic necessity

Rotary's focus turns to two themes this month. March is Water, Sanitation, and Hygiene Month, and we celebrate World Rotaract Week 11-17 March. Both WASH and Rotaract are near and dear to me.

Clean water, basic sanitation, and proper hygiene are fundamental human rights, yet a staggering 2.2 billion people still lack access to safe drinking water.

We're taking action. Over the past decade, your Rotary Foundation has invested more than $180 million in over 2,500 water and sanitation projects worldwide. Rotary is on the ground making a difference through global grant-supported projects funded by your contributions to the Foundation.

But Rotary can't do it alone. We have partnered with organizations like USAID to deliver large-scale solutions. The Rotary-USAID Partnership has helped thousands access water and sanitation services in the Dominican Republic, Ghana, the Philippines, and Uganda.

Our Foundation is the connector for other water partnerships, too. This was the case when I worked with leaders from Rotary District 7020 to set up the Haiti National Water, Sanitation, and Hygiene Initiative, known as HANWASH. Foundation grants continue to play a critical role in our strategy of working with nongovernmental organizations, municipalities, and government agencies in communities throughout Haiti.

Rotary efforts to connect people with clean water go beyond providing a basic necessity. We are paving the way for healthier communities and brighter futures, and doing so in a sustainable manner. With access to water, communities enhance education levels, improve health, and further development.

When we talk about partnerships, we can't forget our closest ally, right here in the family of Rotary: Rotaract. The engagement, energy, and ideas of Rotaract complement the experience of Rotary clubs and increase our collective impact.

Yet many Rotary members still do not know that, as of 2022, Rotaract club activities can be included in district grants, and they are eligible for global grants, expanding avenues for collaboration.

I encourage all Rotary and Rotaract clubs to foster closer collaboration and engagement in our Foundation, whether it's rolling up their sleeves on a project or giving.

We all know that in Rotary, great opportunities are always around the corner. When you combine water and sanitation projects, Rotaract, and the Foundation, all will become a big part of your life, as they have in mine — and not just this month, but forever.

District Governor's March Message

My dear Colleagues in Service,

I am so much amazed by the way you celebrated Rotary Week is the last month of February. You were so creative and made it more significant with your service projects. You have done an excellent job in showing what Rotary can do for people in need of help through your exhibits And Rotary windows. The fellowships were fun and fantastic! Congratulations!

This month of March, we commemorate Water Sanitation and Hygiene Month (WASH). We implement projects that give easy access to safe water in our communities, especially in schools where they are most needed. Water is so important. It gives life and provides sanitation and hygiene. Places in far-flung areas and the uplands most needed supply of water. Rotarians must help them.

I have great expectations from Rotary clubs in our district. I am hoping that I have encouraged you, my fellow Rotarians, to do more humanitarian projects that are sustainable and continue your excellent work in your communities. I encourage more members who are less active to participate more extensively.

We are almost just a month away from our District Convention (DISCON 2024) in Davao City. I could see how the Committee was working hard in the preparation. I could see how all the clubs cooperated in the preparations. Your enthusiasm inspires me and I am grateful! Let us all join hands and minds to make it successful. Most of all, let us make it enjoyable.

Together, let us show the world what Rotary does to be a beacon of HOPE! Thank you!

With warmest regards,

ROZANNE TWINKLE C. GAMBOA
District Governor, RY 2023-2024
Rotary International District 3860

SERVICE ABOVE SELF

THE FOUR-WAY TEST

Of the things we think, say, or do:

- 1.) Is it the truth?
- 2.) Is it fair to all concerned?
- 3.) Will it build goodwill and better friendships?
- 4.) Will it be beneficial to all concerned?

THE OBJECT OF ROTARY

The Object of Rotary is to encourage and foster the ideal of service as a basis of worthy enterprise and, in particular, to encourage and foster:

FIRST. The development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service;

SECOND. High ethical standards in business and professions, the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations, and the dignifying of each Rotarian's occupation as an opportunity to serve society;

THIRD. The application of the ideal of service in each Rotarian's personal, business, and community life;

FOURTH. The advancement of international understanding, goodwill, and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional persons united in the ideal of service.

ROTARIAN CODE OF CONDUCT

The following code of conduct has been adopted for the use of Rotarians:

As a Rotarian, I will

- 1.) Act with integrity and high ethical standards in my personal and professional life
- 2.) Deal fairly with others and treat them and their occupations with respect
- 3.) Use my professional skills through Rotary to: mentor young people, help those with special needs, and improve people's quality of life in my community and in the world
- 4.) Avoid behavior that reflects adversely on Rotary or other Rotarians
- 5.) Help maintain a harassment-free environment in Rotary meetings, events, and activities, report any suspected harassment, and help ensure non-retaliation to those individuals that report harassment.

CREATE HOPE in the WORLD

When we nurture peace, opportunities, and one another, we help heal the world and create lasting change.

Let's create hope by:

- Confronting stigmas, expanding access, and raising awareness about the importance of mental health
- Fostering understanding and strengthening connections through virtual exchanges
- Unlocking the power of girls and women around the world

A future where cervical cancer is not a threat

Part of Project Aastha's education campaign to reach young girls with Information about the HPV vaccine.

By Dr. Rita Kalra, Rotary Club of Chandigarh Midtown, Haryana, India, and a member of the Rotary Foundation Cadre of Technical Advisors have had the good fortune of leading an incredible initiative of my Rotary club, Project Aastha, which is aiming to create a future where cervical cancer isn't a threat.

The heart of our strategy? Vaccinating adolescent girls against the Human Papillomavirus (HPV), a sneaky little thing that causes a lot of trouble, particularly cervical cancer. I recently had a moment of pure joy seeing 130 girls at Arya Samaj Model Town, Panipat, receive their first doses of the HPV vaccine during our camp. It was a big step toward our goal, and seeing those girls take charge of their health was incredibly rewarding.

But it's not just about the vaccinations; it's about knowledge and understanding. That's where our comprehensive awareness campaigns come in. We hit the ground running, making sure everyone understands the importance of the HPV vaccine. We're busting myths left, right, and center!

Addressing HPV vaccination stigma in conservative regions like the Indian state of Haryana involves education, community engagement, and culturally sensitive communication. Our Rotary club has employed these strategies to address stigma:

- Educational Campaigns: Organize workshops, seminars, and informational sessions to provide accurate information about HPV, its risks, and the benefits of vaccination by tailoring the content to address local beliefs and concerns.
- Local Leaders and Influencers: Collaborate with respected community leaders and influencers to endorse and support HPV vaccination. Their endorsement can carry significant weight and help overcome resistance.
- Cultural Sensitivity: Customize communication materials and messages to align with local cultural norms and values. This ensures that information is presented in a way that resonates with the community.
- Interactive Forums: Create platforms for open dialogue where community members can ask questions and express concerns. Addressing these directly fosters trust and dispels myths.
- Partnerships with Healthcare Providers: Work closely with healthcare professionals to ensure they are well-informed and able to address concerns effectively. Their endorsement can be crucial in building confidence.
- Peer Advocacy Programs: Encourage peer-to-peer communication by establishing advocacy programs where individuals who have received the vaccine share their experiences and knowledge within the community.
- Collaboration with Schools: Engage with schools to incorporate HPV education into the curriculum. This helps reach young girls and their parents, fostering a proactive approach to vaccination.
- Media Engagement: Leverage local media outlets to disseminate accurate information and success stories related to HPV vaccination. Positive narratives can counteract negative perceptions.
- Culturally Appropriate Materials: Develop and distribute informational materials in local languages and formats that are easily understandable and relatable.
- Respectful Engagement: Approach the community with respect for their values and traditions. Demonstrate understanding and empathy to build trust, which is crucial in breaking down barriers.

Seeing the numbers is fantastic – over 500 girls from government schools in Panipat have received the vaccine this year. But it's more than numbers; it's a shield we're building around these girls, protecting them from something serious. That's what keeps me going every day – the thought that we're safeguarding the future generation from a health threat.

Project Aastha isn't just a project; it's a commitment – a commitment from Rotary to health and prevention. We're not stopping here. Our aim is to keep expanding, bringing more girls into this circle of protection through vaccination. Imagine a world where cervical cancer isn't something girls worry about. That's what we're striving for.

I'd love to hear your thoughts! Have you come across misconceptions about vaccines before? Or maybe you have a story about how vaccines have made a difference in your life or someone you know? Share your thoughts in the comments below. And share this with your friends and family. Let's spread the word and make a difference together!

Most North American plant species depend on insects, predominantly bees, for pollination. “Your whole food web is supported by bees,” says Dave Hunter, a member of the Rotary Club of Woodinville, Washington. The club leads a project that nourishes bees while beautifying the Seattle suburb. Members use donated wine barrels to construct planters to attract pollinators. Local businesses can sign up to have one placed at their storefront for a donation of $150 a year to the club’s foundation. The planters have QR codes that take visitors to information on the club’s website about the program and pollinators’ importance. “We are not just putting planters out; we’re educating through them,” says Hunter, proprietor of Crown Bees, which sells bees, bee houses, and other materials. The club also partnered with the city, businesses, a garden club, and a nonprofit organization to host a Pollinator Fest in May that attracted about 500 people to hear the latest buzz on bees.

The Rotary Club of Olds, Alberta, is livening up its process for awarding grants to community groups. In November, representatives of about a dozen organizations pitched their proposals at a contest modeled on Dragons’ Den, a CBC television program (much like Shark Tank in the U.S.) in which venture capitalists judge entrepreneurs’ proposals for investment. The organizations were allotted five minutes to make their pitch, followed by five minutes of questioning by a panel of Rotarian “dragons,” or judges. Club President Randy Smith concedes that the awardees would have received their share of the roughly $10,000 regardless of who won. But he says the spirited affair gave the groups, including Interactors and fire department cadets, an opportunity to hone their presentation skills and showcase their creativity.

When the operator of a summer camp for children with Down syndrome or other cognitive disabilities announced in 2021 that she could no longer run the weeklong program, the Rotaract Club of Kecskemét stepped up. The initiative to keep the program going has become “our club’s biggest and favorite project,” says Anna Antalfalvi. She and other members of the university-based club are education and psychology students. “Our aim is to help children develop through activities during the day. This allows parents to relax and work through their difficulties in support groups.” The club’s eight active members and a few volunteers run workshops, cook, serve, and clean. The camp, which is free for participants (17 children and their families in 2023), costs the club about $3,100 a year. “Our sponsoring Rotary club helped for the first time this year, providing a day’s food and cooking a lunch on another day,” Antalfalvi says. “When they personally experienced the atmosphere of the camp and the importance of the work we do there, they decided to make it part of their annual fundraising goal to help fund the camp.”

What began with an enthusiastic health worker telling U.S. Rotarians about water scarcity in South Africa has blossomed into a partnership that has overhauled kitchens, bathrooms, and other sanitation facilities at nearly a dozen schools serving more than 7,200 students. It began with Julia Heemstra, who grew up in South Africa, speaking to a meeting of the Rotary Club of Jackson Hole, Wyoming, in 2018. Club members decided to support her in providing handheld water filters — and were eager to do more. Heemstra connected the Wyoming Rotarians with the Rotary Club of Grahamstown, South Africa, which was at the time rehabilitating sanitation facilities at Ntsika Secondary School. “They had an inconsistent water supply. When the water is shut off, the schools have to shut,” says Stuart Palmer, a past governor of District 5440. “We were seeing the children shortchanged in their education.” The clubs partnered on a global grant to do that work, then a district grant to upgrade the water systems at 10 additional schools. Then, in 2022, the two clubs received a $400,000 global grant to upgrade toilet and kitchen facilities at seven of the schools where they’d previously worked. “Seeing the incredible change — you not only have water, but you’re getting a face-lift on all these schools — it’s huge,” Palmer says.

Monsoon rains regularly pummel Maharashtra state. With the support of a $50,000 global grant, the Rotary Club of Mumbai Down Town Sea Land oversaw construction of five check dams that will help farming families manage flooding in the Palghar district. “The majority of the rainwater runs off the surface, as the land is mostly rocky and consists of hard soil,” says member Chandraprabha Khona, who directed the project in cooperation with the Rotary Club of Colombo, Sri Lanka. A nearly $30,000 contribution from Shabbir Rangwala, a past president of the Mumbai club, was instrumental. The new concrete dams will allow farmers to expand irrigation and cultivate additional crops, as well as store water for sanitation and top off bore wells. Khona adds that the project will lead to “an exponential jump” in farmers’ income.

The business of caring

Arch Klumph Society members Johnny and Veronica Yu share what motivates them to give

Successful in business and philanthropy, Johnny and Veronica Yu of the Philippines have been involved with Rotary for decades. But it was the story of a 6-year-old boy in Japan that inspired them to boost their giving to The Rotary Foundation.

After Typhoon Haiyan ravaged the Philippines in 2013, the boy visited the Philippine Embassy in Tokyo to donate the money in his piggy bank to help victims, including those in the city of Tacloban, which was decimated. "A 6-year-old boy changed lives in Tacloban. Look at the power of love through donations," Johnny Yu says. Today, the Yus are members of the Arch Klumph Society Chair's Circle, which honors those who have contributed more than $500,000 to The Rotary Foundation.

The Yus, who both worked as firefighters, met in 2000 on the scene of a fire. Today, Johnny is a disaster management consultant, and Veronica is the owner of a company providing protective equipment to firefighters. Both are members of the Rotary Club of Cubao, Quezon City. Veronica Yu has another feather in her crown: the title of Mrs. Universe Philippines, which she won in 2022, she says, by emphasizing her Rotary service. "They called me 'the serving queen' because of my lifelong dedication to service that extends to Rotary," she says.

We checked in with the Yus to learn more about their support of The Rotary Foundation.

What sorts of projects do you like to support and why?

We like to support the PolioPlus program as it started in our country, with the help of the only Filipino Rotary president, M.A.T. Caparas. We were also touched by the story of a woman from India who spoke at the 2017 Rotary International Convention in Atlanta who had donated more than $10 million to The Rotary Foundation for polio eradication.

Why are you inspired to give to The Rotary Foundation in particular?

Most of the great foundations around the world have been created by powerful and rich families, but The Rotary Foundation has been created by the giving and the goodwill of thousands of Rotarians. We are proud to call it our Foundation. Millions of people every day are touched by the magic of Rotary. This is only made possible by the service and dedication of Rotarians.

We have contributed more than $500,000 to the Foundation as members of the Arch Klumph Society Chair's Circle. Why? Because we are excited to see how Foundation-supported projects change lives. We don't need accolades, positions, titles, or awards to be recognized as contributors to The Rotary Foundation; all we want is to see a better world. We give because we believe. We believe in hope, we believe in love, we believe in blessings, we believe in answered prayers, we believe in Rotary's magic, we believe in the Foundation, we believe that we can eradicate polio, and we believe in God.

Above: Veronica and Johnny Yu are especially dedicated to supporting PolioPlus because it started in the Philippines.

What would you tell Rotary members considering a gift to the Foundation?

The donation you give to communities through The Rotary Foundation will bring better lives to the children of those communities and to their children's children. And the drops of polio vaccine we give to people, because of this, those children will grow up to walk, to run, to thrive, forever free of disease that once prevailed. This is the legacy that each one of you will leave behind, not in monuments of stone or marble but in the work we do and the people we help and the lives we change. ■

An investment in women's health = An investment in

- ✓ Equality
- ✓ Sustainable development &
- ✓ Human rights

Let's build a world where health knows no gender bias.

Rural women play important roles as health and care workers in their communities. Investing in them can help close the gap for the 2 billion rural people who don't have adequate access to health services.
