INVOCATION

Dear Lord, I pray that You guide us always.
Satisfy the needs that need to be met during this meeting.

Strengthen us as we make discussions and tough decisions.

I pray that we will be like a well-watered garden,
like a spring whose waters never fail.

I pray that we will be fruitful.

Father, please guide us so that this meeting can be productive.

Let us be effective and decisive,

In Jesus ... Amen.

THE 4-WAY TEST

One of the most widely printed and quoted statements of business ethics in the world is the Rotary 4-way test. It was created by Rotarian Herbert J. Taylor in 1932 where he was asked to take charge of a company that was facing bankruptcy Taylor looked for a way to save the struggling company mired in depression-caused financial difficulties. He drew up a 24-word code of ethics for all employees to follow their business and professional lives. The 4-Way Test became the guide for sales, production, advertising and all relations with dealers and customers, and the survival of the company is credited to this simple philosophy.

Herb Taylor became President of the Rotary International in 1954-55. The 4-Way Test was adopted by Rotary in 1943 and has been translated into more than a hundred languages and pub-

The Four-Way Test

of the things we think, say or do.

- 1 Is it the truth?
- 2 Is it fair to all concerned?
- 3 Will it build goodwill and better friendships?
- 4 Will it be beneficial to all concerned?

OBJECT OF ROTARY

Rotary is to encourage and foster the ideal of service as a basis of worthy enterprise and, in particular, to encourage and foster;

1. The development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service;

2. High ethical standards in business and professions; the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations; and the dignifying of each Rotarian's occupation as an opportunity to serve society.

3. The application of the ideal of service in each Rotarian's personal, business, and community life.

4. The advancement of international understanding, goodwill, and peace through a world of fellowship of business and professional persons united in the ideal of service.

DECLARATION OF ROTARIANS IN BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONS

As a Rotarian engaged in a business or profession, I am expected to:

- Consider my vocation to be another opportunity to serve.
- Be faithful to the letter and to the spirit of the ethical codes of my vocation, to the laws of my country, and to the moral standards of my community.
- Do all in my power to dignify my vocation and to promote the highest ethical standards in any chosen vocation.
- Be fair to my employer, employees, associates, competitors, customers, the public and all those with whom I have a business or professional relationship.
- Recognize the honor and respect due to all occupations which are useful to society.
- Offer my vocational talents to provide opportunities for young people, to work for the relief of the special needs of others, and to improve the quality of life in my community.
- Adhere to honesty in my advertising and in all representations to the public concerning my business or profession.
- Neither seek from nor grant to a fellow Rotarian a privilege or advantage not normally accorded others in a business or professional relationship.

ROTARY CODE OF CONDUCT

As a Rotarian, I will

1. Exemplify the core value of integrity in all behaviors and activities.
2. Use my vocational experience and talents to serve in Rotary.
3. Conduct all of my personal, business, and professional affairs, ethically, encouraging and fostering high ethical standards as an example to others.
4. Be fair in all dealings with others and treat them with the respect due to them as fellow human beings.
5. Promote recognition and respect for all occupations which are useful to society.
6. Offer my vocational talents: to provide opportunities for young people, to work for the relief of the special needs of others, and to improve the quality of life in my community.
7. Honor the trust that Rotary and fellow Rotarians provide and not do anything that will bring disfavor or reflect adversely on Rotary or fellow Rotarians.
8. Not seek from a fellow Rotarians a privilege or advantage not normally accorded others in a business or professional relation-

SERVICE ABOVE SELF & RI MISSION STATEMENT

You serve your club and its Members when you take time to attend meetings, work on Committees, and promote Rotary's ideals through club Projects and activities.

You serve your business or profession when you take time to carry out your job responsibilities to the best of your ability and with the highest degree of ethical standards.

You serve all the members of your community when you take time to participate in the dev't. of quality service for youth, the elderly, the disabled and the needy.

As you travel, you serve by taking time to learn about people from other countries, and their customs, needs and beliefs.

And you serve by participating in the Rotarian Program such as The Rotary Foundation, the Health Hunger, and Humanity Programs and World Community Service.

Rotary International Mission Statement

The mission of Rotary International is to support its member clubs in fulfilling the Object of Rotary by:

- Fostering unity among member clubs;
- Strengthening and expanding Rotary around the world;
- Communicating worldwide the work of Rotary; and
- Providing a system of in-

ROTARIAN HYMN

By: George Canseco

I want to be a Rotarian for the world,
Make the Rotary flag be a flag of peace unfurled;
I will serve my community,
Help to seek international unity.
Through Rotary, I will dedicate my all,
World understanding shall be my cherished goal.

Refrain:

With the Four Way Test I will pursue my quest
And if I, in a way help obtain
Peace in the world Then I won't have lived in vain.

I'll observe service above self,
Lend a hand to all who need my help;
I'll get my spouse to involve in Rotary
And in Rotary ways I will train my family.

Refrain:

With the Four Way Test We'll pursue our quest
And if we, in a way help obtain
Peace in the world Then we won't have lived in vain.

Build a bridge for tomorrow's youth,
Strengthened by nothing but the truth;
Let's join our hands, there's no reason to divide.
We shall all understand, while the good Lord is our guide.

Refrain :

With the Four Way Test We'll pursue our quest And if we,
in a way help obtain Peace in the world
Then we won't have lived in vain. Peace be achieved,
So we won't have lived in vain.

PRESIDENT'S CORNER

RICHARD AZARES
PRESIDENT, RY2020-2021

My Fellow Rotarians and Guests,

Great evening to all ...

Our week was very productive because of so many activities done for the club and its project partners as follows;

19th Sept (Sat) - INTERNATIONAL COASTAL CLEAN UP DAY AND SCUBASURERO - a joint project with 209th Squadron, Philippine Coast Guard Auxiliary (PCGA) CGAD-CV and Philippine Coast Guard (PCG) CDG-CV and our clubs represented by yours truly, the RC Cebu South Rotarians and our Rotaractors Community based organized by Dir. Jess dela Cruz.

19th Sept (Sat) - was the birthday celebration of our Past President Ellie Espinoza. Belated Happy Birthday.

20th Sept (Sun) - District 3860 Area 1A Blood Letting led by RC Cebu Fuente Dr. Alain Senerpida. Our very own Rotaract Club President Community Based Mr. Alvin Agnes voluntarily donated his blood to save the lives of others. Thank you very much.

24th Sept (Thurs) - a very moment to be proud of the Memorandum Agreement signing between our club and with the Ayala Business Club held at the Cebu City Sports Club on the project on Basic Education and Literacy. I would like to take this opportunity to thank to those who joined the said event aside from me, PE Rail, TRF Chair Helbert, PP Randy, PEN Jack and most especially the person who is responsible for the partnership, our very own PP Manuel Gordon.

Tonight is our great honor to have a special guest speaker the very famous Eye Surgeon in Cebu ... Let us all welcome to our virtual meeting Dr. Emil Andre Jaca M.D on his life as a COVID Survivor. Let us all listen and enjoy the talk.

Once again daghang salamat and maayong gabii sa inyong tanan.

RICHARD AZARES

ROTARY INTERNATIONAL REVIEW

Knowing what it takes to conquer polio, survivors refuse to crumble under a new threat

Paul Engleman was two years old when he was diagnosed with polio in 1955. One of the lucky ones, as his mother would say, he was not paralyzed by the crippling disease that sometimes kills. Now, he is in the age group that is more susceptible to a new threat, COVID-19. A frequent contributor to Rotary magazine, Engleman describes what it is like to survive polio and live through the COVID-19 pandemic and talks with

Sixty-five years ago, in 1955, I was diagnosed with polio. I was two years old, so I was unaware of what it meant to have been infected with the poliovirus, but I became more aware of it in subtle ways as I got older. And at some point, I understood what my mother meant when she said I was “one of the lucky ones.”

My mother came from Jersey City, New Jersey, and she sounded like it all her life, aided and abetted by a daily regimen of unfiltered Kool cigarettes. She drove a supply truck as a civilian during World War II and delighted in telling a tale about a GI who tried to “get fresh” with her when she gave him a lift back to the base. When she told him she was married and her husband was deployed overseas, he said, “Baby, what’re you saving it for — the worms?”

She stopped the truck and told him, “Ride in back, buster!” I have no doubt that she used an expletive, although she never employed one in the retelling, Jersey accent notwithstanding. But she still thought “saving it for the worms” was the funniest line she had ever heard. She was a woman who could take things in stride, the quintessential “tough cookie.”

But there was one recollection that could unravel my mother like no other — the one that involved her youngest son being diagnosed with polio and the palpable fear that stalked parents across the country during the summers of the early 1950s. She could not stop her voice from cracking when she spoke about that time. That, along with her warnings about staying out of “polio puddles” after it rained, shaped my awareness of how frightening the epidemic had been.

Among my childhood memories, getting the oral polio vaccine is as vivid as the classroom drills that taught us to seek safety under our desks in case of a nuclear attack. While I can now joke about how sturdy school desks must have been back then, there’s no amusement in my recollection of lining up outside the local firehouse for the Sabin sugar cube — that was serious, important business. I knew it then, and I know it now.

My appreciation for having survived polio faded away over time, but returned in force about 12 years ago when I began writing for Rotary magazine. I had assumed polio had been eradicated — or, more accurately, I didn’t think about it. I have since had the opportunity to get to know, and be awed by, some of the Rotarian volunteers who are working to achieve that goal.

ROTARY INTERNATIONAL

Continuation ...

One of the lucky ones

Now, as the novel coronavirus makes its way across the world, I feel a renewed gratitude for what it means to be one of the lucky ones — and a deeper understanding of how terrifying life was for many people six decades ago. As a 67-year-old former smoker, I'm among those now considered vulnerable — I have two adult children to keep reminding me of that — but I'm also among the privileged. My wife and I are able to work from home, we live in a single-family house with creature comforts, and we can afford to practice social distancing with little sacrifice.

Although adults were not immune to polio — President Franklin D. Roosevelt famously contracted the disease at age 39 — most of its victims were young children. Today, COVID-19 appears to pose the most danger to people over 60 — that is, the same group that polio targeted 65 years ago. “There was a high level of fear in the country then, very similar to what we have now,” says Cort Vaughan, who is one of those volunteers I'm awed by. When we spoke in April, Vaughan and his wife, Tonya, had recently returned from participating in a polio vaccination campaign in India.

A member of the Rotary Club of Greater Bend, Oregon, and a past End Polio Now coordinator, Vaughan began his work on the polio front before he was even aware of it: He was a March of Dimes poster child in Riverside, California, when he was three years old. He still has a copy of an article from a local newspaper with a photo of him dressed as a cowboy guarding the spare change that people contributed during a fundraising drive in 1955.

Vaughan doesn't remember contracting polio at age two in October 1954, but, he says, “I have clear memories of my parents relating stories about it, and I could feel the emotion in their voices about what they went through. For my mother, it was like she was reliving the fear and anxiety of having her child stricken with a potentially deadly disease. Their stories were so vivid, so palpable, they almost became my own memories.”

The darkest story starts with his mother discovering one morning that her toddler was suddenly unable to walk, calling the doctor, and rushing him to the hospital. “If you had to go to the hospital, there was a high probability of being crippled for life,” Vaughan says. “Once my parents took me there, it was out of their hands.” At that time, polio wards restricted visitors, and Vaughan's mother was desperate to be with him. “She discovered a women's group that was sending volunteers to hospitals. She joined the Junior League primarily to get to see me.”

Vaughan's illness paralyzed his right leg from the knee down, requiring him to wear a brace and sentencing him to a childhood in which frequent trips to the hospital for physical therapy replaced playing outdoors with friends. “I didn't feel lucky then, but looking back, now I do,” he says. He also believes that the knowledge that comes from living with the scars of polio has heightened his grasp of what is required to overcome the current pandemic. “I know what it's like to face a hidden threat, and I understand the need for people to stay vigilant and work together to prevent the spread,” he says. “I was defending the stay-at-home order in Oregon early on, when friends and relatives were thinking it was not really serious.”

How District 3860 Evolved

(By: PDG Xavier C. Ledesma and PDG Antonio Tambunting, Jr.)

DISTRICT 3860

Fourteen years after the first Rotary club was organized by Paul P. Harris in Chicago, the Rotary movement reached the shores of the Philippines when the Rotary Club of Manila, the first Rotary club in Asia, was chartered in June 1919.

Thirteen years later, RC Manila sponsored the birth of the first Rotary club outside Manila and the second in the country – Rotary Club of Cebu – on November 26, 1932 with 26 charter members. This was followed in 1933 by the organization of the Rotary Club of Iloilo.

RC CEBU SOUTH MILESTONES

In the beginning, the Rotary Club Cebu South was just the proverbial “gleam-in-the-eye” of RC Cebu West resident Joe Cavan, and former District Governor Marianing Ilano. The year was 1968, and a feasibility study showed that there were as many as 92 classifications that could be availed of in the southern portion of the sponsoring club’s territory. The matter was not pursued, however, and it was not until the incumbency of President Tom Espina that the move to form the new club was revived by then District Governor Onor Lozano.

On January 8, 1972 the Rotary Club Cebu South was formally organized at a meeting held at Cavan’s Resort in Guadalupe, Cebu City, and a Charter was applied for. On March 5, 1972, Rotary International gave its official sanction to the club and released its Charter as the Fourth Club in RI District 385. On May 27, 1972, Rotary Club Cebu South held its Charter Presentation and Induction at the Casino Espanol de Cebu, with first President Munding Crystal accepting the Club Charter from District Governor Onor Lozano. There were 28 Charter Members then.

Through the years, the club continues to create footprints and impact in the service of the rotary. Its passions for service were manifested by the countless awards and citations as it rises to prominence and importance. The club prided itself for having a new President every rotary. This is just among the qualities of its members who can be the leader of the Club that can continue its legacy and identity. Currently, the Club has 30 active members. Even with the swift passing of the time that some men of honor and dedication to Club’s service have gone by, the Club’s enthusiasm to serve the community and do better has earned in the Rotary Year 2016-2017 marvelous and exceptional awards, as follows:

- ◆ MOST OUTSTANDING CLUB OF DISTRICT 3860
- ◆ PRESIDENTIAL CITATION AWARDEES
- ◆ 100% FOUNDATION GIVING CLUB
- ◆ SUCCESSFULLY TRANSFORMING INTO A MIXED GENDER CLUB

CEBU CITY, Philippines – Commuters bound to and from Talisay City can expect more public utility vehicles (PUVs) plying in their area starting Tuesday, September 22, 2020.

The Land Transportation Franchising and Regulatory Board in Central Visayas (LTFRB – 7) confirmed that at least 15 units of modern jeeps will operate in Talisay City on Tuesday.

“We issued special permits for at least 15 units of modern jeeps last September 16 to operate in Talisay City, with Tabunok to Cebu City routes,” said Eduardo Montealto Jr., director of LTFRB – 7, in a phone interview with CDN Digital on Monday, September 21.

In a separate advisory, the public information office (PIO) of Talisay City announced that the modernized jeeps will be loading and unloading passengers in Alturas Terminal in Barangay Tabunok from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Cebu City starts painting bike lanes green

CEBU CITY, Philippines — The Cebu City Transportation Office (CCTO) started painting bike lanes here green, a move that is expected to benefit bikers who use their two-wheeled non-motorized vehicles to travel around the city.

This has been a long-standing promise of the Cebu City government when it saw a rapid rise in the use of the bicycles due to the lack of public transport while under the community quarantine.

On Thursday dawn, September 24, 2020, the CCTO began painting bike lanes along V. Rama Street green, separated from the regular vehicle lanes by a white line.

RC CEBU SOUTH FELLOWSHIP SINGING

“BEAUTIFULGIRL”

By: Jose Marie Chan

Beautiful girl, wherever you are
I knew when I saw you, you had opened the door
I knew that I'd love again after a long, long while
I'd love again

You said "hello" and I turned to go
But something in your eyes left my heart beating so
I just knew that I'd love again after a long, long while
I'd love again

It was destiny's game
For when love finally came on
I rushed in line only to find
That you were gone

Wherever you are, I fear that I might
Have lost you forever like a song in the night
Now that I've loved again after a long, long while
I've loved again

It was destiny's game
For when love finally came on
I rushed in line only to find
That you were gone

Beautiful girl, I'll search on for you
'Till all of your loveliness in my arms come true
You've made me love again after a long, long while
In love again
And I'm glad that it's you
Hmm, Beautiful Girl
