SERVICE ABOVE SELF

THE 4-WAY TEST

OF THE THINGS we think, say, or do:

1. Is it the TRUTH?
2. Is it FAIR to all concerned?
3. Will it build GOODWILL and BETTER FRIENDSHIPS?
4. Will it be BENEFICIAL to all?

THE OBJECT OF ROTARY

The Object of Rotary is to encourage and foster the ideal of service as a basis of worthy enterprise and, in particular, to encourage and foster:

- FIRST: The development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service
- SECOND: High ethical standards in business and professions; the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations; and the dignifying of each Rotarian's occupation as an opportunity to serve society;
- THIRD: The application of the ideal of service in each Rotarian's personal, business, and community life;
- FOURTH: The advancement of international understanding, goodwill, and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional persons united in the ideal of service.

ROTARIAN CODE OF CONDUCT

The following code of conduct has been adopted for the use of Rotarians:

AS A ROTARIAN, I will

1. Act with integrity and high ethical standards in my personal and professional life
2. Deal fairly with others and treat them and their occupations with respect
3. Use my professional skills through Rotary to: Mentor young people, help those with special needs, and improve people's quality of life in my community and in the world
4. Avoid behavior that reflects adversely on Rotary or other Rotarians
5. Help maintain a harassment-free environment in Rotary meetings, events, and activities, report any suspected harassment, and help ensure non-retaliation to those individual that report harassment.

ROTARY HYMN

I want to be a Rotarian for the world,
 Make the Rotary flag be a flag of peace unfurled;
 I will serve my community,
 Help to seek international unity.
 Through Rotary, I will dedicate my all,
 World understanding shall be my cherished goal.

Refrain: With the Four Way Test

I will pursue my quest
 And if I, in a way help obtain
 Peace in the world
 Then I won't have lived in vain.

I'll observe service above self,
 Lend a hand to all who need my help;
 I'll get my spouse to involve in Rotary
 And in Rotary ways I will train my family.

Refrain: With the Four Way Test

We'll pursue our quest
 And if we, in a way help obtain
 Peace in the world
 Then we won't have lived in vain.

Build a bridge for tomorrow's youth,
 Strengthened by nothing but the truth;
 Let's join our hands, there's no reason to divide.
 We shall all understand, while the good Lord is our guide.

Refrain: With the Four Way Test

We'll pursue our quest
 And if we, in a way help obtain
 Peace in the world
 Then we won't have lived in vain.

Peace be achieved,
 So we won't have lived in vain.

SEPTEMBER is Basic Education and Literacy Month

Basic education and literacy is one of The Rotary Foundation's six areas of focus. We know that basic education and literacy are essential for reducing poverty, improving health, encouraging community and economic development, and promoting peace.

More than 775 million people over the age of 15 are illiterate. That's 17 percent of the world's adult population.

Our goal is to strengthen the capacity of communities to support basic education and literacy, reduce gender disparity in education, and increase adult literacy. We support education for all children and literacy for children and adults.

HOW ROTARY MAKES HELP HAPPEN: We take action to empower educators to inspire learning at all ages.

OUR IMPACT ON EDUCATION: The Rotary Foundation supports education through scholarships, donations, and service projects around the world.

Rotary members make amazing things happen, like:

Opening schools: In Afghanistan, Rotary members opened a girls' school to break the cycle of poverty and social imbalance.

Teaching adults to read: Rotary members in the United States partnered with ProLiteracy Detroit to recruit and train tutors after a study showed that more than half of the local adult population was functionally illiterate.

New teaching methods: The SOUNS program in South Africa, Puerto Rico and the United States teaches educators how to improve literacy by teaching children to recognize letters by sounds instead of names.

Making schools healthy: Rotarians are providing clean, fresh water to every public school in Lebanon so students can be healthier and get a better education.

"When you teach somebody how to read, they have that for a lifetime. It ripples through the community, one by one."

Providing Youth a Second Chance to Complete their Education amid COVID-19

A case study on education in emergencies in the Philippines

UNICEF Philippines

In the Philippines, the Government closed schools on 9 March 2020 one month before the planned end of term, prematurely ending the school year for almost 25 million students, and postponed the usual start of the 2020-2021 academic year from June to the end of August due to concerns about COVID-19. As cases are still increasing, coursework will remain by distance only. At the end of the recently concluded campaign for the upcoming school year, enrolment stands at 77 per cent of the previous academic year, highlighting the serious negative impact of the pandemic on students.

COVID-19 is also affecting the Alternative Learning System (ALS), which is the Government programme to respond to the needs of those who are unable to continue in formal education through alternative, flexible learning pathways. This programme typically combines self-paced study with in-person instruction by teachers in Community Learning Centres (CLC). Currently, it provides over 800,000 learners annually with a vital second chance and alternative pathway to complete their basic education. In the context of COVID-19, UNICEF is supporting learning continuity not only for formal education but also the non-formal ALS programme, which focuses on reaching the most vulnerable and marginalized children and youth.

Key features

Cross-fertilising lessons on blended learning - The ALS programme relied on blended learning long before the COVID-19 pandemic, offering important lessons for the formal education system expected to open back up gradually using a blended approach. These include the use of individual learning agreements, pre- and post-tests, and self-directed learning modules, complemented by radio, TV and internet resources.

Offering flexible learning - The flexibility of the ALS programme allows learners to study where and when they want to, enabling them to balance their learning with other commitments.

Providing individual support - At the beginning of the programme, teachers establish individual learning plans for every student, which provide a personalised road map for both the learner and the teacher. Teachers can use the plans to provide ongoing monitoring and individual support to help learners achieve their learning goals.

Enabling the safe operations of Community Learning Centers - Learners visit CLCs to review learning progress with their teacher and collect modules and assignments. To ensure their safe operations, UNICEF is providing supplies called Community Learning Centers in a Box, modelled on UNICEF's School in a Box, which contain learning materials as well as soap, cleaning supplies, menstrual hygiene items, and COVID-19 awareness materials, such as handwashing posters. Teachers in the Centers also manage risk by using a staggered schedule, wearing face masks and regularly disinfecting classrooms and offices.

Leveraging relationships and programmes - UNICEF leveraged its existing relationships with the Department of Education to provide learners and teachers with access to learning materials and COVID-19-related resources through the newly established ICT4ALS platform early in the COVID-19 response. UNICEF is currently in the process of expanding the platform with additional 60 interactive multimedia learning modules. The platform has currently over 26,000 active users.

Prioritising low-tech solutions - The programme uses low-tech learning materials, such as printed modules and worksheets and educational resources broadcast on TV and radio, in addition to providing online access through the ICT4ALS platform. This ensures that everyone has access, even learners in rural areas or vulnerable households who may lack internet connectivity or devices. Similarly, teachers provide feedback and support in a variety of ways, for example, through text messages and messages on social media platforms.

Emergent lessons learned

Continuity of learning - The well-established blended learning programme enabled children and youth to continue their education despite the pandemic and continued school closures across the country.

Providing a second chance - Indications of COVID-19 resulting in lower enrolments in formal education for the upcoming school year underscore the importance of offering non-formal education options and second-chance education programmes such as this one to provide learners an alternative pathway to keep learning. UNICEF is currently in the process of finalizing a communication campaign aimed at ensuring that young people return and continue learning in formal and/or non-formal education programmes.

Leveraging local partnerships and investments - The ALS programme relies on local communities, youth associations, government, and businesses to reach out to out-of-school children and youth. Support can include enrolment campaigns, programme subsidies and scholarships, the provision of learning spaces and/or teaching and learning materials, or the active participation in the programme and courses, for example, as resource persons on topics including financial literacy, business planning, entrepreneurship, etc.

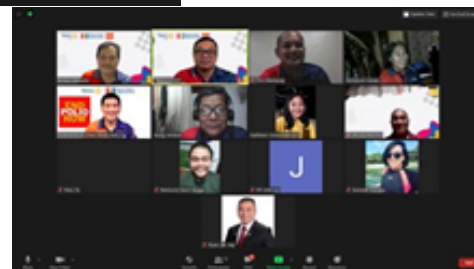

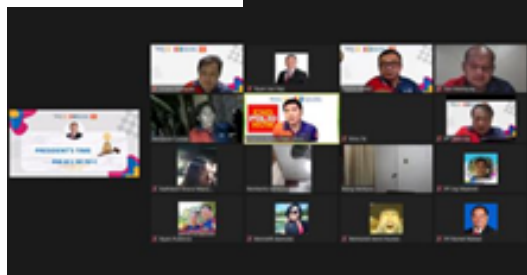

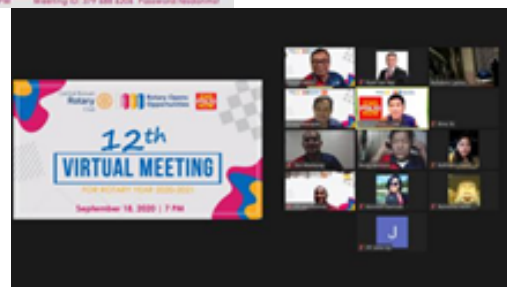

Investing in teachers - Teachers are central to the success of the programme. To meet their needs in the context of COVID-19, UNICEF collaborated with the Department of Education to provide teachers with COVID-19-related awareness and teaching materials through the ICT4ALS platform and in co-developing teacher training specifically for the programme, as part of the Basic Education Learning Continuity Plan.

Area of Focus: Supporting the Environment

The Mangrove Planting & Coastal Clean-up was a joint activity of 8 clubs of Area 3I and 3J (Butuan area) of D3860 and in partnership with DENR, Naval Reserve Command and 942nd Marines Company Reserve. The activity was hosted by RC Butuan East Central headed by Pres. Carlo Dacera and took place in Brgy Sacol, Buenavista, Agusan del Norte.

Captured Moments

Supporting the environment becomes a new area of focus

The Rotary Foundation Trustees and Rotary International Board of Directors have both unanimously approved adding a new area of focus: supporting the environment.

More than $18 million in Foundation global grant funding has been allocated to environment-related projects over the past five years. Creating a distinct area of focus to support the environment will give Rotary members even more ways to bring about positive change in the world and increase our impact.

Mark Daniel Maloney, 2019-20 RI President, said that during his Rotary travels, he met many Rotarians and Rotaractors who advocated for the environment as an area of focus. "I believe strongly that our Rotary Foundation programs now have a valuable added dimension to our efforts," Maloney said.

As the global population approaches 8 billion, protecting the environment is increasingly important, said 2019-20 Foundation Trustee Chair Gary C.K. Huang. "It is time for us to use our collective resources to invest in a smart and efficient way to protect our environment," he said. "We are qualified to take on this initiative because we are a global group of problem solvers with diversified talents."

In 1990-91, RI President Paulo V.C. Costa made the environment one of his primary causes, creating the Preserve Planet Earth Committee, which looked at opportunities for clubs and members to conduct environmental projects. "We have finally caught up to [the vision of] Costa," said 2017-18 RI President Ian H.S. Riseley, Chair of the Environmental Issues Task Force, which championed the new area of focus.

"As a lifelong environmentalist, I'm delighted that our great organization has recognized that the environment is a worthy and appropriate destination for our project activity," Riseley said. "This is an exciting moment in Rotary history."

Supporting the environment becomes Rotary's seventh area of focus, which are categories of service activities supported by global grants. It joins peacebuilding and conflict prevention; disease prevention and treatment; water, sanitation, and hygiene; maternal and child health; basic education and literacy; and community economic development.

Grant applications for projects will be accepted beginning on July 1, 2021. Gifts and commitments from Rotarians and others will be sought to provide global grant support for the new area of focus.

More information about this new cause will be announced soon.

TIDBITS

~THE WIFE'S HEADACHE~

It's a beautiful warm spring day and a man and his wife are at the zoo.

She's wearing a cute, loose-fitting, pink spring dress, sleeveless w/straps. As they walk through the ape exhibit and pass in front of a very large gorilla, the gorilla goes ape. He jumps up on the bars, holding on w/one hand (and 2 feet), grunting and pounding his chest w/the free hand. He is obviously excited at the pretty lady in the sheer dress.

The husband, noticing the excitement, suggests that his wife tease the poor fellow. He tells her to pucker her lips, wiggle her bottom, and flirt w/the ape.

She does and the gorilla gets even more excited, making noises that would wake the dead. Then the husband suggests that she let one of her straps fall; she does, and the gorilla is so excited, he's just about to tear the bars down.

The husband then suggests that the wife lift her dress up above the thighs... this drives the gorilla absolutely crazy.

Then, quickly the husband grabs his wife by the hair, rips open the door to the cage, slings her in w/the gorilla and says, "Now, tell him you have a headache."

Creating greater impact

by RIEZEL REYES, D3860, Rotary Club of Davao East

The Rotary brand of service will remain and, in fact, it will be stronger as we respond to this current health crisis.

Rules on physical distancing will change how we undertake our projects. We will depart from the usual "photo opportunity" project implementation. This time, it will be more of doing the real good thing of providing for the needs for our communities.

We know that several of us are making our individual contributions, providing what we can as we carry the phrase "Rotary at Work". The work of one or two Rotarians, even for a small number of beneficiaries is still Rotary service. If we can encourage more initiatives such as this, we will be able to spread the benefits to a bigger number of people.

Looking at today's events closely, we note that there is a big number of Rotarians on the first and last lines of defense to combat the COVID-19 pandemic. We should take pride that Rotary is at the forefront. Let's make time to know and mobilize our members who are active in community service because their vocation calls for it. We do have heroes among us.

Below: With RI President John Germ at End Polio Now commitment session.

Fellowship, which is essential in a Rotary Club, will be restricted for a certain period of time. Resources that may have been spent for fellowship may now be channeled to support community service projects.

As I witness how Rotary Clubs in District 3860 have been responding to the government's call to extend assistance to our front liners and health workers, I am moved by the tremendous sacrifice and service extended by Rotarians. This is a big opportunity for all of us to create greater impact and open opportunities to uplift the marginalized sectors of our society.

This life changing experience has made all of us stronger and more tightly connected with each other.

RY 2020-21 will definitely be a challenging year of service. How we perform will test the mettle and quality of how we have prepared and planned activities that address the four imperatives of RI's new strategic plan: Reach, Impact, Engagement, and Adaptability.

We will have to mobilize our networks to create responsive and long-lasting solutions. We evaluate the results of our endeavors to learn from our successes and setbacks.

As we serve our communities, we will demonstrate that Rotarians are personally capable and professionally relevant. Our service projects should mirror our dedication in investing our time, talent and resources.

Given the community concerns about COVID-19, we should be mindful of the needs of vulnerable Rotarians in our clubs and districts.

The COVID-19 pandemic has also altered our daily routines and forced the cancellation of many in-person Rotary and Rotaract club meetings and events. Even while we cannot hold our usual events, Rotarians have devised new ways to stay engaged, connected with one another, and serve our community.

This is an unprecedented challenge all of us. It is also an opportunity for Rotarians to find new, meaningful ways to lead individuals and communities to connect and do good in the world.

Rotary is known to be a group for rich people, Rotarians are known to be rich people.

Rotary and Rotarians are indeed rich, people rich in humanity.

We will encourage and support Rotarians to seek out fresh opportunities. We will find new ways to lead the world in achieving lasting change as we constantly move forward.

COVID-19 INFORGRAPHICS

Getting your workplace ready for #COVID19

Surfaces (like desks, tables) and objects (like telephones, keyboards) should be wiped with disinfectant regularly

#Coronavirus

Getting your workplace ready for #COVID19

Promote regular teleworking across your organization. If there is an outbreak of COVID19- in your community the health authorities may advise people to avoid public transport and crowded places. Teleworking will help your business keep operating while your employees stay safe.

#Coronavirus

Getting your workplace ready for #COVID19

Brief your employees, contractors and customers that if coronavirus starts spreading in your community, anyone with even a mild cough or fever will need to stay at home.

#Coronavirus

Getting your workplace ready for #COVID19

Promote regular and thorough hand washing. Put sanitizing hand rub dispensers in prominent places around the workplace and provide access to places where staff, contractors, and customers can wash their hands with soap and water.

Getting your workplace ready for #COVID19

Promote good respiratory hygiene. Ensure that surgical face masks and/or paper tissues are available at your workplaces for those who develop a runny nose or cough at work – along with closed bins for hygienic disposal of them.

Getting your workplace ready for #COVID19

- Keep workplaces clean and hygienic
- Promote regular and thorough hand washing
- Promote good respiratory hygiene
- Consult national travel advice before going on business travel
- Advise those who are sick

Getting your workplace ready for #COVID19

Your employees should comply with any local restrictions on travel, movement or large gatherings.
