PRES. CARMENCITA R. ZURITA

RY 2019-2020

My fellow Centralites, Spouses and Guests,

SEIZE THE DAY!

That's always been my mantra. I feel like I am a top, wearing different hats, from being a businesswoman and focusing again to my rotary duties, but for a couple of months now majority of my time is occupied with rotary. The other week I prepared for our Club Assembly. My heartfelt gratitude to PSAG Lulu Ventosa and Dir Angie Jamias for being my mentors in the preparation of our first Club Assembly. My special thanks as well to our Membership Chair PP Jonathan Desales, our Service Project Chair PP Art Escalante, our Club Admin Chair Dir Angie Jamias, our TRF Chair PP Josie Manaois, Our Public Image Chair Ann Allones, and our Director for Youth Service Eric Moreno for preparing their reports as against our SCORECARD. With the dedication and commitment you have manifested last meeting, I'm positive that we will hit our goal of 100 percent in our SCORECARD by next year!

Our Club assembly last Monday reflected the dynamism of our club. There were tears and bursts of anger and never-ending debates. Our club is indeed a vibrant and explosive club! Not a dull moment indeed!

My special thanks to the Achievers Team for successfully handling the CLUB ASSEMBLY. I love the GREETER concept! I hope the other teams would follow suit by having a greeter as well.

Last Sept 26, IPP Mike Zurita, SAA Joseph Solicar and Dir Eric Moreno went to Tibungco for an ocular inspection of our Dream signature project, the day care center. Looking forward to your perspective and project cost so that we can apply for a District Grant on the said project.

Last October 2 we had our first bowling practice. Special thanks to PDS/DMC Chair Chi Uy, Rtn Micah Uy and Spouse Maki, Dir Eric Moreno, PE Jerome Camiña, PP Joel Mermida with Spouse Lalai and Rotakid Josh Mermida. Their scores showed that we definitely have an edge in the forthcoming bowling tourney. EYE ON THE PRIZE team RC CENTRAL! Let's practice again this Wednesday Oct 9. See you in SM Lanang. We need more players and cheerers!

As if my activities aren't enough, I am now busy practicing for our presentation in the GOVERNORS NIGHT this coming November 15. Our theme is LATINA MARDI GRAS. So please save the date. It's going to be a night of fun and laughter!!!

Tonight, the WINNERS team is in charge, I'm sure it's going to be for the WIN evening! Our guest speaker for tonight is MR EDNAR GEMPESAW DAYANGHIRANG, the Chief of Staff of the Provincial Government of Davao Oriental. His topic is about the PRRD EO 70.
MORE POWER TO US ALL RC CENTRAL TEAM!

Thank you and God bless us all

A collaboration between Rotary and Heifer continues to produce big results, helping small farms provide healthier, locally-sourced food

In the fall of 2015, volunteers from Rotary and Heifer International came together to build hoop houses for a few farmers working small lots in Arkansas, USA. The afternoon outing was part of a larger project that is still reaping benefits four years later, supporting small-scale agriculture in the region and increasing access to locally-grown food.

Heifer has been using the small-scale agriculture model for decades to alleviate hunger and fight poverty around the world. The approach has the added benefits of being environmentally friendly and offering healthier food options.

That mission dovetails with Rotary's mission to grow local economies and improve health. So it's not surprising the two groups have teamed up on a number of occasions in the past 30 years to improve communities by helping families escape poverty. Several Heifer employees are or have been members of the Rotary Club of Little Rock, Arkansas, USA, the city where Heifer has its headquarters.

"Our values line up very well," says Ardyth Neill, a member of the Little Rock club and president of the Heifer Foundation. "With Rotary, it's Service Above Self and helping to serve others. Heifer has been working with farmers to be accountable, pass on their gifts, train other farmers, and work together in community. It's learning to share and care, basic things that work well together."

In the United States and other developed nations, a lot of food production is controlled by large industrial operations, which produce cheaper food by focusing on a single crop and using specialized equipment to cut labor costs.

But according to research into sustainable agriculture, this food model has downsides, including a reliance on commercial fertilizers, heavy pesticides, and other chemicals that can harm the environment.

The trend has also contributed to the failure of smaller family farms, increasing the poverty rates in places like rural Arkansas.

Nationwide distribution networks have also resulted in food deserts in urban areas, particularly in the U.S., England, and Australia, where poor neighborhoods have little access to fresh produce and instead rely on less nutritious fast foods and packaged products.

Small-scale sustainable agriculture, on the other hand, tends to keep things local. The money you spend on food stays in your community and helps your neighbor. Farmers maximize land use by planting multiple crops that replenish the soil and reduce the need for fertilizers and pesticides. And fruits and vegetables grown closer to home keep more of their nutrients. Consumers are increasingly aware of these health benefits, fueling the market for local produce.

"There's a phenomenon going on, really nationwide, about people becoming more and more concerned and thoughtful about where their food comes from," says Sharon Vogelpohl, a past president of the Little Rock Rotary club and a volunteer on the project.

With polio back, EcoWaste wants more DOH funds to build toilets

Only P2 million is allotted under the DOH's proposed 2020 budget to build sanitary toilets

MANILA, Philippines –The Department of Health (DOH) needs additional funds to build more toilets amid the ongoing polio outbreak in the country, the EcoWaste Coalition told Congress. The pro-environment group made the appeal on Sunday, September 22, two days after the DOH confirmed the second case of polio in the Philippines.

The EcoWaste Coalition pointed out that of the P159.2 billion budget proposed by the DOH in 2020, only P2 million is allotted to address open defecation through the building of sanitary toilets. (READ: Hontiveros says DOH's P10-billion budget cut an 'attack on public health')

“To stop open defecation, the EcoWaste Coalition also urged Congress to ensure the allocation of sufficient funds for the construction of sanitary toilet facilities and the provision of hygiene and sanitation education, noting that only P2 million is allotted for building toilets in the proposed DOH budget,” EcoWaste Coalition said in a statement.

The DOH has declared a polio outbreak in the country, where two cases – a 3-year-old girl from Lanao del Sur and a 5-year-old boy from Laguna – have been confirmed.

Poliomyelitis or polio is a highly contagious disease caused by the poliovirus invading the nervous system. The disease can be transmitted through feces infected with poliovirus, which can enter the body through the mouth and spreads through contact with an infected person’s feces. In rare cases, the virus is transmitted through sneezing or coughing. (READ: EXPLAINER: What is polio?)

EcoWaste Coalition’s Jovito Benosa said the DOH must strengthen its Zero Open Defecation (ZOD) program now that polio has returned to the country after 19 years.

“The unwelcomed return of polio in the Philippines, after almost two decades of being declared polio-free by WHO (World Health Organization), should lead to an intensified implementation of the ZOD program and other preventive measures, including ecological solid waste management, toward improved environmental sanitation in our communities,” said Benosa.

“Attaining the ZOD target will benefit sectors such as young children, pregnant women, and those with impaired immune systems who are most vulnerable to polio and other infectious diseases,” he added.

The DOH launched its polio vaccination campaign in August, with target areas including the National Capital Region, Davao, and Lanao del Sur in October, and in Central Luzon and Calabarzon in November.
