Let us Pray

Heavenly Father, thank you for enabling us to gather here tonight for this meeting. May we have meaningful discussions that will help us to build each other up and glorify Your name. Help us to deal with different challenges that we are facing as a team. May we approach each other with respect and kindness. We ask these things in your name, Amen.

RY 2019-2020

My fellow Centralites, Spouses and Guests,

Warm greetings !

At last its already December and Christmas is in the air. Im sure everybody is busy buying gifts and attending Christmas parties as early as now. Personally, in addition to these busyness is computing for the 13th month pay and bonuses and its also the busiest time of the year for my kind of business. Time management is in the air for me! But let us not forget the reason for the season, our Saviour Jesus Christ is born. It is also the season of giving, of loving and of forgiving. Let us also be selfless in giving specially to our less fortunate brethren.

Tonight, the much awaited guest speaker , PDDG Cary Beatisula will be talking about the assessment on the recent earthquakes that rocked Mindanao . Its an opportune time that we have this important topic for tonight so that we will be updated and informed with what is really happening and its effect to our real estate investments.

Also, tonight Team Achievers will make us experience a taste of Thanksgiving , Centralites way. I am sure its going to be an interesting evening.

And lastly, i would like to borrow the theme of the 2019 SOUTHEASTASIAN GAMES, which I also would like to make it the Centralite's theme as well and that is:

WE WIN AS ONE!

Advance Merry Christmas to one and all!

WE WIN AS ONE

Rotary Partners with International Agency for the Prevention of Blindness

Victoria Sheffield, vice president of International Agency for the Prevention of Blindness, and John Hewko, Rotary International general secretary, sign the partnership agreement.

EVANSTON, IL (August 7, 2017) — About 80 percent of the world's 285 million visually impaired people have treatable eye diseases, according to the World Health Organization. Rotary and the International Agency for the Prevention of Blindness (IAPB) aim to promote eye health to underserved communities.

Under the one-year partnership signed today by Rotary International General Secretary John Hewko and Vice President of IAPB Victoria Sheffield, Rotary clubs can partner with IAPB member agencies to provide access to continuous eye care and blindness prevention services such as eye exams, cataract screenings and treatment, and diabetic eye examinations and follow-up services.

"IAPB champions the belief that in the 21st century no one should have to live with avoidable blindness or sight loss," said Rotary General Secretary John Hewko. "Rotary also sees global health as a core priority. With IAPB's expertise, and the power of Rotary's volunteer network, we will strengthen our ability to transform the lives of millions of people who live with a visual impairment."

"The impact of blindness prevention efforts is lasting and has a palpable effect at the local level. This service partnership agreement will help eye care agencies and hospitals tie-up with local Rotary clubs to deliver positive, lasting eye care to local communities" noted Victoria Sheffield, CEO, International Eye Foundation and Vice-President, IAPB. "Eye care work will greatly benefit from the passion, energy, and support of Rotary members worldwide".

IAPB's mission is to eliminate the main causes of avoidable blindness and visual impairment by bringing together governments, non-governmental agencies, academic institutions, and the private sector to facilitate the planning, development, and implementation of sustainable eye care programs.

Rotary members develop sustainable projects that fight disease, promote peace, provide clean water, support education, save mothers and children, and grow local economies. The recent partnership will help clubs further their efforts to provide disease prevention and treatment and maternal and child health programs worldwide. Over the past three years, nearly a quarter of a million people benefited from Rotary's interventions for disease prevention and maternal and child health, supported by almost $100 million awarded through its grants programs.

IAPB joins a list of Rotary service partners including, the Peace Corps, Dollywood Foundation, the Global FoodBanking Network, and Youth Service America.
