Nanotechnology brings safer water to the Ganges Delta

By Kamala Thiagarajan Summarized

Growing up in India's Ganges Delta, Sajal Kanti Kayal learned early that water, though abundant, can be dangerously polluted. In West Bengal, seasonal floods, industrial runoff, and poor sanitation contaminate surface water, while groundwater is often tainted with arsenic – a toxic element that has made the region one of India's hardest hit by waterborne diseases. Kayal, who has personally suffered health effects from contaminated water, understands that access to clean water is essential not only for health but also for education and economic stability.

The crisis affects millions globally, with arsenic contamination putting up to 230 million people at risk, particularly in India and Bangladesh where arsenic-rich sediments from the Himalayas leach into groundwater. In response, Arindam Roychowdhury, a member of the Rotary Club of Calcutta, launched a clean-water initiative after witnessing severe illness and suffering in delta communities.

Partnering with Tata Chemicals, the Rotary Club of Calcutta installed gravity-fed water purification systems that eliminate bacteria and viruses without requiring electricity – making them suitable for rural areas. With support from a Rotary Foundation global grant in 2024 and an international partnership with the Rotary Club of Colleyville, Texas, the project expanded to schools and public sites across affected villages. While the systems are used in areas with lower arsenic levels, they now provide clean drinking water to an estimated 25,000 people, with plans for further expansion.

Rotary members emphasized long-term sustainability through regular maintenance, water testing, and community monitoring. As climate change intensifies challenges through rising sea levels and increased salinity, communities are also restoring mangrove forests to protect water sources.

Though arsenic contamination remains a global public health challenge with no simple solution, the project has already improved daily life in villages like Kayal's. Clean water, he says, is not just a necessity – it is an investment in the future.

Winn Htun
President 2025-2026

Dear Fellow Rotarians,

As we continue our journey in Rotary Year 2025–2026, I am encouraged by the renewed energy, purpose, and commitment our club brings as we step into the new year together. The start of 2026 reminded us that Rotary is not only about service, but also about learning, planning, and empowering one another for the future.

On January 8, 2026, we gathered for our Luncheon Meeting at Bevanda Restobar, which proved to be both insightful and forward-looking. We were privileged to welcome Ms. Michelle Barias Buenaventura, Senior Financial Manager of Manulife, as our guest speaker. She shared valuable and practical insights on life insurance, emphasizing its vital role in financial planning, protection, and long-term security.

Her discussion resonated deeply with our members, providing meaningful takeaways that encouraged informed, responsible, and proactive financial decisions for ourselves and our families.

This meeting also marked a significant milestone for our club, as it served as the first RCD Officers' Meeting for the year 2026. During this session, officers came together to discuss, align, and plan upcoming activities and projects. The collaborative exchange of ideas reflected our shared commitment to thoughtful leadership and purposeful service as we move forward in the year.

Moments like these — where learning meets leadership and fellowship strengthens vision — exemplify what it means to be part of Rotary. As we look ahead, may we continue to equip ourselves with knowledge, plan with intention, and serve with compassion, always guided by our enduring principle of Service Above Self.

Together, let us continue building a year filled with impact, unity, and meaningful change for our community.

Winn Htun
President, Rotary Club of Davao 2025-2026

The Four-Way Test

1. Is it the TRUTH?
2. Is it FAIR to all concerned?
3. Will it build GOODWILL and BETTER FRIENDSHIP?
4. Will it be BENEFICIAL to all concerned?

Rotary Code of Conduct

As a Rotarian, I will:

1. Act with integrity and high ethical standards in my personal and professional life.
2. Deal fairly with others and treat them and their occupations with respect.
3. Use my professional skills through Rotary to mentor young people, help those with special needs, and improve people's quality of life in my community and in the world.
4. Avoid behavior that reflects adversely on Rotary or other Rotarians.
5. Help maintain a harassment-free environment in Rotary meetings, events, and activities; report any suspected harassment; and help ensure non-retaliation to those individuals that report harassment.

The Object of Rotary

The Object of Rotary is to encourage and foster the ideal of service as a basis of worthy enterprise and, in particular, to encourage and foster:

- FIRST: The development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service;
SECOND: High ethical standards in business and professions; the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations; and the dignifying of each Rotarian's occupation as an opportunity to serve society;
THIRD: The application of the ideal of service in each Rotarian's personal, business, and community life;
FOURTH: The advancement of international understanding, goodwill, and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional persons united in the ideal of service.

Mission, Vision, and Philosophy

Mission. Maintaining the status of RCD as an institution in the family of Rotary International organizations and leaving a legacy of improved quality of life and livable community.

Vision. To contribute our time, resources, efforts to our community, and develop, share, nurture our future generations for love, friendship, and world peace.

Philosophy. "Service with Honor"

Declaration of Rotarians in Business and Professions

As a Rotarian in a business or profession, I am expected to:

1. Consider my vocation to be another opportunity to serve.
2. Be faithful to the letter and the spirit of the ethical code of my vocation, to the laws of my country, and the moral standards of my community.
3. Do all in my power to dignify my vocation and to promote the highest ethical standards in my chosen vocation.
4. Be fair to my employer, employees, associates, competitors, customers, the public and all with whom I have a business or professional relationship.
5. Recognize the honor and respect due to all occupations which are useful to society.
6. Offer my vocational talents: to provide opportunities for young people, to work for the relief to the special needs of others, and to improve the quality of life in my community.
7. Adhere to honesty in my advertising and in all representations to the public concerning my business or profession.
8. Neither seek from nor grant to a fellow Rotarian a privilege or advantage not normally accorded others in a business or professional relationship.
