ROTARY INFORMATION

Let's talk about one of Rotary's Causes: Supporting Education (from Rotary International Facebook Page)

773 million people around the world who are over the age of 15 can't read or write. Supporting Education is an important cause to Rotary because literacy can increase health, lifelong learning, promote gender equality, and the list goes on. All of these things lead to an overall better quality of life. Education experts discovered increasing school attendance doesn't guarantee a student will learn to read and write. In Guatemala and Nepal, teachers struggled to overcome student illiteracy until Rotary members helped through the Guatemala Literacy Project and the Nepal Teacher Training Innovations. The programs provide literacy lesson plans and train teachers on how to get students to take a more active role in their education. Instead of memorization of words, teachers now encourage critical thinking skills. Literacy plays an important role in helping people out of poverty, increasing their chances of better job opportunities, therefore improving their quality of life.

BRAD AND CHAD have been stuck in a lifeboat for weeks. They're out of water and supplies, and they're sure they're doomed.

They notice a sealed bottle bobbing toward their boat and scoop it out of the water. They open it up, and a genie pops out.

"Thank you for freeing me!" the genie says, "For your kind deed, I will grant you one wish!"

Before Chad can say anything, Brad blurts out, "Turn the whole ocean into beer!"

The ocean turns a glistening golden amber and the genie vanishes. Chad punches Brad in the arm and says,

"Way to go, idiot! Now we have to piss in the boat!"

THREE BLONDES ARE stranded on an island, they rub a magic lamp and a genie pops out to grant each one wish

The first blonde says "I wish I was smart enough to make my way off this island." She turns into a red head and swims off the island

The second one says "I wish I was smarter than her so I could make it off the island faster." She turns into a brunette and she builds a raft and sails off the island

The third one says "I wish i was smarter than both of them combined so I could get off the Island even faster." She turns into a man and walks across the bridge.

MY WIFE TOLD me, If anything happens to me, I want you to meet someone new.

Apparently, anything doesn't include getting stuck in traffic.

A GUY RUNS into a bar, and yells, "Quick! How tall is a penguin?"

The bartender says, "3-ft tall."

The guy says, "Oh my God! I just ran over a nun!"
