ABOUT THE COVER

The Rotary Year 2024-2025 theme "the Magic of Rotary" encapsulates the essence of Rotary International's mission and the transformative impact it has on communities worldwide. At the heart of this theme is the idea that Rotary is not just an organization but a movement that brings people together to create positive change and make a lasting difference in the world.

"The Magic of Rotary" symbolizes the powerful and often awe-inspiring results that stem from Rotary's core values of service, fellowship, diversity, integrity, and leadership. It represents the collective effort of Rotary members, who, like magicians, work behind the scenes to address critical issues, uplift marginalized groups, and promote sustainable development. Through their dedication, passion, and commitment to service above self, Rotarians create a ripple effect of positive impact that reaches far and wide.

This theme serves as a call to action for Rotarians to harness the magic within themselves and their communities to address pressing challenges, foster goodwill, and promote peace. It underscores the idea that when individuals come together with a shared vision and purpose, they can achieve extraordinary things that transcend boundaries and make the impossible, possible.

As Rotary members embark on projects and initiatives throughout the 2024-2025 year, the theme "the Magic of Rotary" serves as a guiding light, reminding them of the inherent potential within their collective efforts. It inspires Rotarians to embrace innovation, collaboration, and inclusivity as they work towards creating a world where magic is not just a fantasy but a reality born out of compassion, empathy, and action.

THE OBJECT OF ROTARY

The Object of Rotary is to encourage and foster the ideal of service as a basis of worthy enterprise and, in particular, to encourage and foster:

- FIRST. The development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service;
- SECOND. High ethical standards in business and professions; the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations; and the dignifying of each Rotarian's occupation as an opportunity to serve society;
- THIRD. The application of the ideal of service in each Rotarian's personal, business, and community life;
- FOURTH. The advancement of international understanding, goodwill, and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional persons united in the ideal of service.

THE FOUR-WAY TEST

Of the things we think, say or do

1. Is it the TRUTH?
2. Is it FAIR to all concerned?
3. Will it build GOODWILL and BETTER FRIENDSHIPS?
4. Will it be BENEFICIAL to all concerned?

MISSION

The mission of Rotary International is to provide service to others, promote integrity, and advance world understanding, goodwill, and peace through its fellowship of business, professional, and community leaders

R.I. PRESIDENTIAL MESSAGE

July 2024

Rotary is at its best when we foster a sense of inclusion and belonging in our clubs. In fact, I would go so far as to say that belonging is The Magic of Rotary itself.

With a focus on inclusivity and belonging, it is easier to be united in a common purpose. When we are committed to one another and focused on our goals, we are most effective.

Rotary's Action Plan can help. The Action Plan comes with tools you can use to collect feedback, assess your club's strengths and weaknesses, and address challenges.

The world is changing, and our clubs can't afford to stand still. But the changes we make need to be consistent and strategic — building on one another toward a greater vision. The Action Plan can help you work toward that vision and create effective change within your club. Following the Action Plan and addressing suggestions from the community will go a long way to fostering the sense of belonging we want all Rotary members to feel in their clubs.

That's why expanding our commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion is so important. Committing ourselves to each other's well-being is the first step to expanding our reach, allowing us to spread Positive Peace in these troubled times.

Peacebuilding is one of our top priorities, and one of the most effective ways we can build peace is with our Rotary Peace Fellowships, through which peace and development professionals learn how to prevent and end conflict.

We offer the fellowships through our Rotary Peace Centers at leading universities around the globe, where more than 1,800 Rotary Peace Fellows have graduated. And thanks to a $15.5 million gift from the Otto and Fran Walter Foundation, we can continue supporting peacebuilders in more regions with the next peace center at Bahçeşehir University in Istanbul.

Opening another peace center is a monumental achievement, and it is my great honor to invite you to celebrate at next year's Rotary Presidential Peace Conference at the Istanbul center. The three-day conference 20-22 February will highlight the many ways our family of Rotary advances peacebuilding. Registration for the conference is officially open. I hope to see you there.

The 2025 Rotary Presidential Peace Conference has great potential for our peacebuilding efforts — but only if we have your support. The truth is, we're not going to bring peace to the world, end polio, or grow membership by waving a wand and saying some funny words. It's up to you. You create the magic with every project completed, every dollar donated, and every new member inducted.

I love my Rotary family and I know you do too. That's why I know that together, we can make every club and district simply irresistible. This year, let us change the world by embracing The Magic of Rotary.

Stephanie A. Urchick
Rotary International President

CLUB PRESIDENT'S NOTE

I had the privilege of witnessing first-hand the dedication and hard work that our members put into our collective goals. Our Club's strategic planning plays a crucial role in guiding our organization toward success, and it is essential to appreciate the efforts of each member while also motivating them /to collaborate more effectively as we progress into a more effective and cohesive organization. The foundation of any successful organization lies in the collective efforts of its members. In the case our Club, our diversity brings a unique set of skills and experiences to the table. From organizing community events to fundraising for important causes, each member contributes in their own way to the overall success of our club. It is important to acknowledge and appreciate these contributions, no matter how big or small, as they all play a vital role in achieving our shared objectives. Appreciation goes beyond just words; it is about recognizing the time, energy, and passion that each member invests in our collective mission. Whether it is through a simple thank you message, a public acknowledgment during a meeting, or a gesture of gratitude, showing appreciation fosters a sense of belonging and encourages continued engagement. When members feel valued and appreciated, they are more likely to be motivated to give their best and collaborate more effectively with others.

Motivating members to collaborate more is also a key to the success of any organization. Collaboration enables us to leverage our collective strengths, share knowledge and resources, and achieve greater impact in our community. By promoting a culture of open communication, teamwork, and mutual respect, we can create an environment where members feel empowered to work together towards common goals. Encouraging collaboration also helps in building strong relationships among members, fostering a sense of camaraderie and unity within the club as we practice our motto of service above self. In conclusion, allow me to reiterate my appreciation to each one of you for your continued support and cooperation as we devise essential strategies for driving success and achieving our shared goals. By fostering a culture of recognition, appreciation, and collaboration, we can build a stronger, more cohesive organization that is capable of making a lasting impact in our community. As we continue on this journey together, let us remember the power of collective effort and the importance of working hand in hand toward a common vision. Thank you and may God Bless Rotary Club of Kandaya.

THE DRUMBEAT OF CHANGE IN PAKISTAN

Punjab's folk drummers help build trust for polio vaccinators

By Wasif Mahmood

The sound of drums is enough to rouse even the sun. As tea stall owners set up shop for the day, curious women peek out of their windows and children rush out of houses to flock to the mysterious drummer in Rawalpindi, Pakistan. As he moves from street to street, they run alongside him. Flushed with excitement, they start dancing to the familiar local tunes, some of the children falling over each other, but all smiling. It is a welcome distraction on a cold January morning.

This lively scene, however, is no accident. A banner draped around the drummer carries a message encouraging families to participate in the upcoming polio vaccination campaign. This attention-grabbing approach, blending cultural traditions with polio awareness efforts, is the brainchild of UNICEF's Social Behavior Change team working with the government's Provincial Polio Emergency Operations Centre in Punjab.

Leading this creative team is Sajida Mansoor, who understands that information overload on polio vaccination can overwhelm parents, at times to the point of inaction. "Out-of-the-box thinking was required to respond to the challenge. That's how we came up with this unconventional but fun idea of using drums to spread awareness and highlight key immunization dates to reach children, especially those who were consistently missing polio vaccination," says Mansoor, a longtime UNICEF staff member supporting polio eradication efforts in the country.

Zafar Iqbal, the drummer, suddenly stops playing to allow people to hear the call to prayer from the local mosque. Iqbal, who plays a folk drum known as a dhol, is a seasoned professional musician who sustains his livelihood by showcasing his talent at various cultural events when he is not engaged with the polio eradication program.

But the polio percussion show isn't over yet. Joining Iqbal at center stage is 7-year-old Gul Bahisht, who confidently delivers a brief speech she has composed: "I have been vaccinated. Why not vaccinate your child too? It's easy and simple. Just two drops for your child in every campaign and we will all be free from polio forever." Iqbal resumes the rhythmic beat of his drums, bringing immense laughter and joy to the children and their families.

This strategy has struck a chord with communities. In neighborhoods where the initiative was first introduced, parents became more receptive. This enabled health workers to vaccinate a large cohort of children who had consistently missed vaccination due to reasons cited as "not available," which often meant the parents did not open their doors to vaccinators. Children, too, embraced the teams with trust, resulting in more efficient vaccination coverage.

"This approach has helped us break down the barriers with caregivers, and they are more receptive to communicating with us," Mansoor says. "We are dedicated to ensuring that our teams on the ground actively respect the religious and cultural norms of the local community."

In spots across Rawalpindi and the city of Lahore where the drummer strategy was introduced, polio teams managed to vaccinate every available child. This was a significant contribution to the 96 percent vaccination coverage achieved in Punjab province during the campaign in January.

Back in Rawalpindi, Iqbal's percussion jam for polio eradication continues to reverberate in the neighborhood. A father himself, he made sure his youngest daughter was vaccinated at 2 months old during the recent campaign.

"I feel very happy and blessed that the beats from my drums bring joy to people," Iqbal says with a smile, "and at the same time support an important cause that protects our children in Pakistan from deadly diseases like polio."

Reflection, growth, and transformation

New Leadership Month is a time of reflection, growth and transformation in Rotary. It serves as an opportunity for leaders to examine their current practices, learn new skills, and embrace innovative approaches to leading others effectively. Throughout this month-long celebration, leaders are encouraged to step out of their comfort zones, challenge existing norms, and inspire positive change within their organizations and communities.

Leadership is an ever-evolving concept that requires continuous learning and adaptation. Leaders must seek out fresh perspectives, engage in professional development opportunities, and explore creative ways to inspire and motivate their teams.

One of the key facets of New Leadership Month is the idea of inclusive leadership. Inclusive leadership is about valuing and leveraging the diverse perspectives, backgrounds, and experiences of all team members. It involves creating a sense of belonging, fostering open communication, and promoting equity and fairness in decision-making processes. Leaders must reflect on their own biases and assumptions, and strive to create a more inclusive and diverse work environment.

Effective communication is also a essential in a good leader. Communication is a cornerstone of a club, as it facilitates collaboration, alignment, and shared understanding among team members. A good leader must hone his/her communication skills, seek feedback from their club, and explore new ways to convey their ideas and visions effectively. By becoming more adept communicators, leaders can build stronger connections with their club and drive positive outcomes.

Leaders are encouraged to embrace a growth mindset. A growth mindset is the belief that abilities and intelligence can be developed through dedication and hard work. By adopting a growth mindset, leaders can approach challenges with resilience, learn from setbacks, and continually improve their leadership skills. Through workshops, seminars, and discussions focused on growth mindset, leaders can cultivate a mindset of continuous learning and growth that propels them towards success.

Overall, New Leadership Month offers a valuable opportunity for leaders to reflect, learn, and grow in their leadership journey. By embracing the core themes of inclusive leadership, emotional intelligence, effective communication, innovation, mentorship, coaching, and growth mindset, leaders can elevate their leadership skills and make a positive impact within their organizations and communities. As we celebrate New Leadership Month, let us commit to becoming the best leaders we can be, inspiring others to reach their full potential, and shaping a brighter future for all.
