INVOCATION

Lord, grant me the serenity,
 To accept the things I cannot change,
 Courage to change the things I can,
 And wisdom to know the difference.

Living one day at a time, enjoying one moment at a time,
 Accept the hardships as the pathway to peace, taking as He did,
 This sinful world as it is, not as I would have it.
 Trusting that He will make things right if I surrender to His will,
 That I may be reasonably happy in this life,
 And supremely happy with Him forever in the next.

Amen.

PROTECTING THE ENVIRONMENT

How Rotarians Are Already Fighting Climate Change

By: Diana Schoberg

Rotarians are doers. Show them a problem and they look for solutions. But a global problem such as climate change might seem daunting to even the most resourceful Rotary member.

Break that complex problem down into smaller pieces, however, and you find there are many things Rotarians can do -- and are already doing, with help from The Rotary Foundation.

A coalition of researchers and scientists led by environmentalist and writer Paul Hawken, mathematically modeled the climatic and economic potential solutions to learn which ones would yield the best results for people and the planet. The list, compiled in a 2017 book called: "Drawdown: The Most Comprehensive Plan Ever Proposed To Reverse Global Warming," included some surprising possibilities, such as educating girls, promoting family planning, and assisting farmers. As it happens, all these align with Rotary's areas of focus. "Drawdown" researchers ranked solutions from 1 to 80 based on their potential to avert or reduce greenhouse gas emissions. We looked at those rankings alongside global grant projects to see how Rotarians are already helping to fight climate change.

JOKE TIME

1. Everytime a little boy went to a playmate's house she found the friend's grandmother deeply engrossed in her Bible. Finally his curiosity got the better of him.

"Why do you suppose your grandmother reads the Bible so much?" he asked.

"I'm not sure," said his friend, "but I thing she's cramming for her finals.

2. In a public library, a man with his new library card questioned the pretty librarian.

"Do you mean to say," he asked, "that with this card I may take out any book I want?"

"Yes," she answered.

"May I take you out?" he ventured.

Drawing herself up to her full height, she replied, " The librarians, sir, are for reference only."

3. "Nothing looks good on me anymore," wailed a customer modeling an outfit in front of the department store's mirror.

"Nonsense, maám," soothed the salesclerk. "That dress says it all."

"That's the problem," the woman replied. "I need a dress that keeps its mouth shut."

4. One day the telephone in the office of the rector of President Roosevelt's Washington church rang, and an eager voice said, " Tell me, do you expect the President to be in church this Sunday?" "That I cannot promise," the rector explained patiently. "But we expect God to be there, and we fancy that will be incentive enough for a reasonably large attendance."
