RI PRESIDENTIAL MESSAGE

August is Membership Month, but our commitment to growth and connection is year-round. When we focus on growing Rotary, we grow our ability to serve, to lead, and to bring lasting change.

Membership growth isn't just about numbers. It's about opening doors. It's about inviting more people who are ready to give their time, talents, and hearts to a cause greater than themselves. When we welcome new members, we bring in fresh ideas and new energy. We expand our impact, strengthen our clubs, and ensure that Rotary continues to evolve with the world around us.

Remember, there is now great flexibility in fashioning nontraditional club models. I'm inspired when I see these innovative clubs thrive by offering new and prospective members more ways to connect and serve. In Korea, the growth of satellite clubs has created opportunities for nearly 1,000 new members to find their place in Rotary. In Romania, the close collaboration between Rotarians, Rotaractors, and Interactors has built a pipeline of future leaders. In India, some Rotarians gather around a shared interest – whether it's professional development or a passion for service – and those connections deepen their commitment and their joy in being part of Rotary. And we've seen cause-based clubs thrive in regions as diverse as Southeast Asia, Africa, and Europe.

There's a common thread: Where clubs are growing, membership is a priority and there is a willingness to try something new. Rotary is not limited to one structure or tradition. We are a global network of people of action, and that means there is room for many kinds of clubs, many ways to serve, and many paths into our organization.

This spirit of innovation is also guiding our efforts to reach new communities. In places where there has never been a Rotary club – or where a club once existed and faded – Rotarians are finding ways to grow Rotary. They are identifying areas of potential and building clubs that reflect the character and needs of their communities.

Every member plays a part in this journey. Whether you introduce a friend to your club, support a new meeting format, reconnect with program alumni, or simply share your Rotary story, you are helping our organization grow stronger and more vibrant.

No one owns a Rotary club. It is a gift we pass on to the next generation. When we nurture that gift, when we invite others to share in it, we ensure that Rotary continues to be a force for good. Let's prioritize membership growth – not just in August but every month of the year. Together, through friendship, creativity, and shared purpose, we will grow Rotary and Unite for Good.

PRESIDENT'S NOTES

Collaboration is often celebrated in principle—but rarely examined in practice. The 3rd Area Coordination Meeting (ACOM) held on August 21, 2025, brought together clubs from Areas 3B and 3C with a shared intention: to align, to coordinate, and to strengthen collective impact. But alignment is not automatic.

It requires more than presence—it demands clarity, discipline, and, at times, compromise. The real question is not whether clubs are willing to work together, but how they work together. Are we aligning on objectives, or merely sharing updates? Are we building complementary strategies, or unintentionally duplicating efforts?

Guided by the leadership of Bonifacio Tordillo Jr. and Marlyn Ruiz, the discussions during ACOM surfaced an important realization: effective service is no longer about isolated excellence, but about coordinated execution. In a landscape of complex community needs, fragmentation weakens impact—while integration strengthens it.

For the Rotary Club of San Juanico, this meeting served not just as a venue for planning, but as a checkpoint for accountability. Where do we stand in relation to district priorities? How do we ensure that our initiatives are not only well-executed, but also strategically aligned with broader goals? It is easy to equate activity with progress. But without cohesion, activity risks becoming noise rather than impact.

Moving forward, the challenge is structural: how do we operationalize collaboration beyond meetings? How do we translate shared ideas into synchronized action plans, measurable outcomes, and sustained partnerships?

Because true fellowship in Rotary is not only built through connection—it is proven through coordination.

If we are to magnify our impact, then collaboration must evolve from an intention into a system—one that is deliberate, accountable, and consistently aligned with the communities we serve.
