GUIDING PRINCIPLES

THE FOUR-WAY TEST

Of the things we think, say or do

1. Is it the TRUTH?
2. Is it FAIR to all Concerned?
3. Will it build GOODWILL and BETTER FRIENDSHIP
4. Will it be BENEFICIAL to all concerned

OBJECT OF ROTARY

The Object of Rotary is to encourage and foster the ideal of service as a basis of worthy enterprise and, in particular, to encourage and foster:

FIRST: The development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service;

Second: High ethical standards in business and professions; the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations; and the dignifying of each rotarian's occupation as an opportunity to service society;

THIRD: The application of the ideal of service in each Rotarian's personal, business, and community life;

FOURTH: The advancement of international understanding, goodwill, and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional persons united in the ideal of service

RI PRESIDENTIAL MESSAGE

In a garage outside Salinas, California, young people who are learning to restore classic cars are doing more than developing a skill — they are reclaiming their futures. This training program provides mentorship and, for some, a path away from gang involvement toward meaningful employment. Graduates leave with certifications, practical experience, and hope.

This is what Rotary's Vocational Service Month celebrates each January — the power of bringing together people with unique skills to do good in the world. It reminds us that integrity isn't just about our actions matching our words. Integrity is in everything we do.

The California automotive program has been such a success because it was built on integrity. Members of the Rotary Club of Carmel-by-the-Sea didn't assume they knew what the community needed. They listened. They learned there was a shortage of skilled mechanics as well as a large number of young people lacking job training. They recognized that technical skills alone wouldn't be enough, so they partnered with Rancho Cielo, a nonprofit offering counseling and support services alongside vocational training.

That is The Four-Way Test in action. Those four simple questions help us not judge others but guide us toward genuine, effective service. Consider our commitment to ending polio. For nearly 40 years, we have promised the world's children we will eliminate this disease. Despite obstacles, we persist, and today we are closer to defeating the virus. Keeping this promise is the very definition of integrity.

The same integrity must drive our vocational service. With 1.2 billion young people in emerging economies reaching working age in the next decade and only 420 million jobs projected, we face a critical gap. Communities long excluded from economic opportunities need our support. But support doesn't mean imposing our will. It means listening to local needs, building partnerships, and designing projects that communities can sustain themselves. You have knowledge that can transform lives. Whatever your profession, your expertise combined with Rotary's values creates lasting change. The question isn't whether you have something to offer, it's how you'll use your skills to serve.

This January, I encourage you to ask how your club can address vocational needs in your community. What skills do your members have that could change someone's life? How can your networks open doors for young people? What partnerships can create sustainable jobs?

Let integrity guide you. Let The Four-Way Test light your path. And let the young people in California and the multitudes worldwide who need job skills remind you why vocational service matters. Let us celebrate putting our professional skills to work for humanity with integrity at the heart of everything we do.

FRANCESCO AREZZO

Rotary International President

PRESIDENT'S NOTES

As we conclude the third and final signature implementation of Project OINK under my term, I am filled with pride and gratitude for what the Rotary Club of San Juanico has accomplished together. Project OINK was never simply about distributing piglets—it was about creating opportunity, restoring dignity, and nurturing sustainable kabuhayan for our partner beneficiaries.

By providing healthy piglets, feeds, growth boosters, and access to proper training through our partnership with San Miguel Foods Inc., we ensured that this initiative goes beyond immediate assistance. We equipped families not only with resources but with knowledge, skills, and confidence to build a stable and sustainable source of income.

True service is measured not by what we give, but by the lasting impact we help create. Seeing our beneficiaries empowered with both tools and training affirms that when Rotarians, local government, and private partners work hand in hand, meaningful change happens.

As President of the Rotary Club of San Juanico, I am deeply grateful to our members, partners, and supporters who made Project OINK a success. May this initiative continue to inspire us to pursue programs that uplift lives, promote self-reliance, and strengthen our communities.

Together, we do not simply serve—we build futures.”

WINSTON U. YAO CABIGON

President, RY 2025-2026

JANUARY HIGHLIGHTS

PROJECT OINK: RCSJ CONCLUDES THIRD AND FINAL SIGNATURE PIGLET DISPERSAL PROJECT, STRENGTHENING SUSTAINABLE LIVELIHOODS

The Rotary Club of San Juanico (RCSJ) successfully completed the third and final implementation of its signature initiative, Project OINK: Piglet Dispersal – Nurturing Kabuhayan, under the leadership of President Winston U. Yao Cabigon, marking a key milestone in its livelihood empowerment efforts.

Held at Carigara Plaza, Leyte, the program distributed 20 healthy piglets to qualified beneficiaries, providing families with a sustainable source of income and long-term livelihood opportunity. Beyond turnover, the initiative aimed to strengthen household stability and promote self-reliance.

To ensure accountability and sustainability, a Memorandum of Agreement (MOA) was signed, clearly defining the responsibilities of beneficiaries. Participants were also provided with feeds and growth boosters to support the initial development of the piglets.

A technical seminar conducted by San Miguel Foods Inc. equipped beneficiaries with essential knowledge in hog raising, including proper care, feeding management, disease prevention, and responsible breeding—ensuring both resources and skills were transferred.

The event was graced by Hon. Mayor Eduardo Ong Jr., highlighting strong collaboration between RCSJ, local government, corporate partners, and the community.

As the final rollout of Project OINK under President Cabigon's term, this initiative reflects RCSJ's commitment to sustainable, scalable livelihood programs that promote economic empowerment and inclusive growth.

Through Project OINK, RCSJ turns service into long-term impact—strengthening families and building more resilient futures, one livelihood at a time.
