Invocation

Tonight, dear Father, we beseech You, grant us the gift of understanding of the faith required of us, and the guidance to practice this faith through deeds, thereby honoring Rotary and above all, honoring You, the Supreme Head of all service organizations.

You taught us that Christian is not merely an emotion or a purely intellectual conviction or an adherence to a moral and religious code, nor is a belief in a man-made God. Christian faith is, first of all, an encounter with God. It is love brought to mankind by the Son of God. It is also an act of trust made in Christ as a living person, as someone in the truth of whose words and life we can believe. And finally, it is a commitment, a free and conscious participation, as the people of God, in God's mission to save the world.

Grant us, therefore, the privilege of encountering and recognizing Your divine person in the Rotary, among its members, in fellowship with them, and in the service of our fellowmen. May this human encounter with our fellow Rotarians and the people we serve straighten our love and trust in You. And finally, give us the courage to fulfill our commitment to "serve others above self," which is the Rotary's way of expressing Your mission to save all men. Given this kind of faith, with Your divine assistance, we will surely honor Rotary. We will surely honor You. Amen.

OBJECT OF ROTARY

The object of Rotary is to encourage and foster the ideal of service as a basis of worthy enterprise and, in particular to encourage and foster:

FIRST:

The development to acquaintance as an opportunity for service;

SECOND:

High ethical standards in business and professions; the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations; and the dignifying of each Rotarian's occupation as an opportunity to serve society;

THIRD:

The application of the ideal of service in each Rotarian's personal, business and community life;

FOURTH:

The advancement of international understanding, goodwill, and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional persons united in the ideal of service.

FOUR WAY TEST

OF THE THINGS WE THINK, SAY OR DO

- 1st Is it the TRUTH?
- 2nd Is it FAIR to all concerned?
- 3rd Will it build GOODWILL and BETTER FRIENDSHIPS?
- 4th Will it be BENEFICIAL to all concerned?

Declaration of Rotarians in Business and Professions

As a Rotarian engaged in a business or profession, I am expected to:

1. Consider my vocation to be another opportunity of service;
2. Be faithful to the letter and to the spirit of the ethical codes of my vocation, to the laws of my country, and to the moral standards of community.
3. Do all in my power to dignity my vocation and to promote the highest ethical standards in my chosen vocation;
4. Be fair to my employer, employees, associates, competitors, customers, the public and all those with whom I have a business or professional relationship;
5. Recognize the honor and respect due to all occupations which are useful to the society;
6. Offer my vocational talents to provide opportunities for the relief of the special needs of others, and to improve the quality of life in my community;
7. Adhere to honesty in advertising and in all representations to the public concerning my business or profession;
8. Neither seek from nor grant to a fellow Rotarian a privilege or advantage not normally accorded to others in a business or professional relationship.

Rotary Information...

African region marks one year since being certified wild polio-free

by Ryan Hyland

Rotary joined its partners in the Global Polio Eradication Initiative (GPEI) to mark the first anniversary of a historic public health milestone: the World Health Organization's African region being certified free of wild polio.

The anniversary was celebrated on 25 August during a WHO Regional Committee for Africa meeting, which also addressed current challenges to eradicating polio and new tactics to achieve a polio-free world.

Africa's milestone has already benefited children's health and public health across the continent. The infrastructure and innovations that helped the African region become free of wild polio are playing an important role in the COVID-19 pandemic response and are available to use in future public health emergencies. Polio workers also now conduct other routine immunizations, deliver medicines, and provide other health care services.

The achievement in Africa is the result of a decades-long effort by millions of Rotary members, health workers, government officials, religious leaders, and parents. Since 1996, when wild polio paralyzed an estimated 75,000 children across Africa, health workers have administered more than 9 billion doses of oral vaccine, preventing 1.8 million wild polio cases.

Rotary members have contributed nearly $920 million toward eradicating the virus in the region, advocated for support from their governments, mobilized communities around National Immunization Days, and conducted events to raise funds and public awareness.

Five of the WHO's six regions, representing more than 90% of the world's population, are now free of the wild poliovirus.

Africa's success in eliminating wild polio proves that the virus can be eliminated under complex circumstances and provides a blueprint for eradicating wild polio in the last two countries where it's endemic: Afghanistan and Pakistan.

Dr. Tunji Funsho, chair of Rotary's Nigeria PolioPlus Committee, says the certification of the African region is a monumental public health achievement, but the ultimate goal of global eradication remains.

"Our job is not done," says Funsho, a member of the Rotary Club of Lekki Phase 1, Nigeria. "Africa still has a vital role to play in ending polio globally and must continue to reach children everywhere with polio vaccines."

"We also face a final hurdle in ridding Africa of all forms of polio," he adds, citing outbreaks of the circulating vaccine-derived poliovirus type 2 (cVDPV2) variant. These outbreaks, he says, "continue to harm under-immunized communities across the region and paralyze children."

Health officials confirmed 609 cases of cVDPV2 across 20 countries in Africa in 2020, a sharp increase from a year earlier. One factor in the increase in polio transmission was the unprecedented pause in polio vaccination campaigns from March through July 2020 in more than 30 countries in order to protect communities from COVID-19. According to the WHO and UNICEF, 23 million children missed out on basic vaccines in 2020, including polio vaccinations.

Although the African region's anniversary is evidence of what can be achieved, the two countries where wild polio remains endemic are evidence that as long as polio exists anywhere, it is a threat everywhere.

The GPEI's new 2022-26 polio eradication strategy aims to overcome the remaining hurdles and finish the job by introducing innovative tools and tactics to reach more children with vaccines. The strategy includes the broadening distribution of a new vaccine to address outbreaks of cVDPV2. This novel oral polio vaccine type 2 (nOPV2) protects children against polio while being more genetically stable and less likely to regain strength and cause the vaccine-derived polio. It has already been introduced in several African countries, including Benin, Chad, Liberia, Niger, Nigeria, the Republic of Congo, and Sierra Leone.

The new strategy will expand the regional rapid response teams that quickly start work in areas with outbreaks. Health workers will also have more access to electronic surveillance technologies, which expedite the detection of cVDPV2.

The program will broaden an initiative that has helped more than 250,000 health workers access digital payments for their work in as little as two days. And the program calls for digitization with real-time data and automated dashboards that will help health workers plan more effective campaigns.

Our Guest of Honor & Speaker...

PP NORMA “Nomi” MONFORT

For the benefit of the new Rotary Southerner members and the millennials, Norma “Nomi” Monfort, was Be the Inspiration Year 2018-2019 Past President of RCSD. However, she is more known for her role as “Bat Mama” to her angels of the night, bats! Yes “kwaknit, kabog, aswang” if you will, but don’t let her hear you call them that or say you’ve eaten them as “pulutan”.

Her passion for this unpopular advocacy is unmatched. The rocky no-income-generating-limestone-family-farm on Samal Island where the Guinness World Record Holder Bat Colony is based, Nomi likes to claim by stating, she did not inherit but earned the right to be the chosen steward.

Her uphill battle for the misaligned nocturnal creatures, myths and misconceptions about the allegedly dirty and virus carrying bats is finally paying off today. She has fought a 2nd attempt to cover her property under the Comprehensive Agrarian Reform (CARP) program, subdued 50 machete wielding squatters overnight by hiring stevedoring goons when her blue guards chickened out and Philippine National Police refused to help except say “Ma’am you have to file a case”, and had all court cases against her dismissed for insufficient evidence against arson, illegal cutting of coconuts, continuing attempts of “alleged” CARP beneficiaries still trying to get reinstated as “tenants”.

Bat conservation, Nomi’s main advocacy has earned her a Disney Worldwide Fund Conservation Hero Award in 2011. In 2019 she was among the recipients during the 1st Mindanao Governance and Leadership Excellence Awards held in Cagayan de Oro. National Geographic Magazine featured her colony and work in a 9 page article and continues to be featured on popular TV programs and international publications.

Nomi is very much honored to share with us her journey and what she envisions for Davao she calls DAVALOP, Davao Land of Peace because of her practice of the Culture of Peace and Non Violence. This advocacy is a UNESCO inspired Manifesto 2000 decade campaign. But aware of just having three more good years before turning to an octogenarian, she plans to bow out and go back to an “ungrateful instrument” the piano, where she earned a Bachelor of Music Degree from St. Scholastica’s College in Manila and post graduate studies from the Universidad Central de Madrid.

The President’s Corner

24 October is World Polio Day!

As World Polio Day approaches, the Rotary community is getting ready to amplify our message about eradicating polio to protect the world’s children from this devastating disease.

Together, we’ve made tremendous progress. Now it’s time to intensify our fight to make polio the second human disease ever to be eradicated. Last year, the World Health Organization’s African region was certified free of wild poliovirus, showing that eradication is possible even in very difficult circumstances. The wild poliovirus remains endemic in just two countries: Afghanistan and Pakistan. We can use World Polio Day to advocate for the support we need to end polio in countries where it still paralyzes children.
