PRESIDENTS MESSAGE...

President Eugene Tan

Greetings of peace and great health to my Rotarian Brothers of the Rotary Club of Tacloban. I extend my sincerest gratitude for your attendance to our 8th regular meeting for the leadership year.

This week's activity for the club focuses on two areas in our club:

1. Collaboration, and
2. Membership Development

Collaboration with other clubs strengthens the aim of brotherhood in the Rotary. Continued cooperation has showed our members, community and our partners that Rotary is beyond any border. That we work alongside so many of our brothers and sister with whom we share the same goal.

Finest example is the recently conducted donation of the Jetmatic pumps in collaboration with the Rotary Club of Bagaumbayan-Manila. Their trust in us is without doubt since we exemplify the values of a true rotary and with that, we are grateful. We will continue to seek fellows and partners that share our goals and conduct projects that will benefit the community.

Membership development is seldom given focus in our club since we respect the industries and specializations we have. Those talents are then contributed to the club to create an amalgamation of ideas that results in great projects and programs. Those voices, no matter how great and loud, sometimes are not heard. The proper forum is needed and thus the proper medium to present it.

Great ideas need to be presented in a proper way so that all voices can be heard and the proper protocol followed lest we lose our voice because we did not follow the technicalities. The Parliamentary Procedure seminar gives the club a semblance of order.

The members will be given a chance to be trained in the intricacies of parliamentary presentations and counter-presentations so that all voices will be heard. By having a uniform medium of presentation and discussions, we will now have a cohesive meeting that is efficient. Efficient meeting means finishing on time and will give us more time to be in fellowship with each other.

May this week be a fulfilling week of service and learning for all of us. Continue to be transformers dear brothers and transform ourselves to be better men today than when we were yesterday. May God continue to bless us all.

Rotarian Eugene A. Tan
Transforming President

SECRETARYS MESSAGE...

Secretary Jonathan Calvara

A Pleasant Day to all Fellow Rotarians,

“The Best Way to Find Yourself is To Lose Yourself in the Service of Others.” — Mahatma Gandhi

As Rotarians, we carry the motto #ServiceAboveSelf...

From the history of Rotary International, this motto serves as a reminder for every Rotarian to think of how we can help others instead of selfish thoughts. The motto originated when Paul Harris, the founder of Rotary, asked Rotarian Frank Collins to address the participants of the second annual Rotary Convention. The year was 1911. Frank Collins, a fruit merchant from Minneapolis, in the impromptu speech, told how his club had used the phrase “Service, Not Self” as a motto and that it was fundamental to them as to what it meant to be a Rotarian. The speech and the motto struck a cord with all the Rotarians. It really did neatly sum up in three words what Rotary, at its core, was all about. The Convention participants took the motto back to their own clubs and soon it captured the imaginations of all Rotarians. Over time the motto evolved to “Service Above Self”. At the 1950 Rotary Convention, the motto was officially adopted. Frank Collins’ simple idea remains as evocative today as it was nearly 100 years ago.

Interestingly, Frank Collins’ Minneapolis Rotary Club was also one of the first clubs to have weekly luncheon meetings. They have become a fixture of most Rotary clubs the world over.

Becoming a member of Rotary Club of Tacloban, somehow fulfills my personal advocacy in helping the community. Serving the less fortunate gives me my human purpose. I salute our veteran members of our club, that despite their years of membership and loyalty to RC Tacloban, they are still active because they want to be of service to others. You are a motivation to us younger members and to the newcomers. Together, we are here in this prestigious organization because we found the best way to lose ourselves with the purpose of service to others.

Please be reminded of our upcoming activity:

*Distribution of Jetmatic Pumps – in cooperation with
RC Bagumbayan-Manila:
-November 27 (Friday); 2PM: Municipality of PALO
(6 Barangays)

Yours in Rotary Service,
Jocal

ROTARY INFORMATION...

PE Bobby Andrade

Chicago Rotarian Xavier Ramey says the key to creating an equitable society is understanding where we've been

Wearing a dark suit, a white shirt, and a blue tie held in place by a silver clasp, the young man walked onto the stage, flashed a disarming smile, and introduced himself to the 24,000 people assembled there. "My name is Xavier Ramey," he said, "and I bring you greetings from the wonderful city of Chicago, Illinois." A smattering of cheers followed, and then the young man launched into an oration that would be one of the most powerful, persuasive, and memorable speeches at the 2018 Rotary International Convention in Toronto — an event that, among its speakers, included Justin Trudeau, the charismatic prime minister of Canada.

Over the next quarter of an hour, Ramey alluded to the Book of Esther ("we were created for a time such as this"), quoted from Martin Luther King Jr.'s Letter from a Birmingham Jail ("we are caught in an inescapable network of mutuality"), and invoked what he called "the first step in [Rotary's] four-step process to building peace": Is it true?

But the speech was also grounded in the personal. The words from the Old Testament, he said, could be found in "the Bible that my grandmother Eudora Ramey used to read to me." The moral code he lived by — which emphasized the importance of "acknowledging not only other people's pain, but where it came from" — sprang from boyhood lessons he learned from his mother, Airetta. And, as Ramey explained, his firsthand understanding of life's inequities came from living in a city that King — who lived for several months in the same Chicago neighborhood where Ramey grew up — claimed "had deeper racism than he had ever seen in his life."

Yet Ramey, now 35, relayed all this without bitterness. He had not stepped before his fellow Rotarians in Toronto to settle old scores, make political points, or employ rhetoric to incite angry passions. Instead, he wanted to send a message of reconciliation and a call for urgent action that has only become more relevant in the two-plus years since he delivered his speech.

The key to creating an equitable society in America, he said, is a recognition of the "tension" that exists between the founding ideals of the United States and the ugly realities of the country's past, which include slavery, the slaughter of Indigenous peoples, and a system that often diminished the contributions of women and people of color. It's "a refusal to acknowledge history," he insisted, that hampers any opportunity to create a more just future, as does any tamping down of conversations or protests about the inequities and challenges of the present. "We live in a world that can become enraged not at injustice but at survivors who won't stop speaking," he told his audience.

"In a way, I was born at the starting line for peace," Ramey said, referring to the era since the passage of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. "But history has no starting line. You cannot look forward unless you know what's behind you. Peace begins with that acknowledgment of what's behind us, and what's behind each of us in our own lives and our own actions."

THE OBJECT OF ROTARY

The Object of Rotary is to encourage and foster the ideal of service as a basis of worthy enterprise and, in particular, to encourage and foster:

FIRST:

The Development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service;

THIRD:

The application of the ideal of service in each Rotarian's personal, business, and community life;

SECOND:

High ethical standards in business and professions; the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations; and the dignifying of each Rotarian's occupation as an opportunity to serve society;

FOURTH:

The advancement of international understanding, goodwill, and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional persons united in the ideal of service.

THE FOUR-WAY TEST

OF THE THINGS WE THINK, SAY OR DO

1. Is it the TRUTH?
2. Is it FAIR to all concerned?
3. Will it build GOODWILL and BETTER FRIENDSHIPS?
4. Will it be BENEFICIAL to all concerned?
