ROTARY INFORMATION

ROTARY CLUB OF TAGBILARAN: MOVING FORWARD FOR RY 2021-22

This Rotary Year 2021-2022, Rotary Club of Tagbilaran is aiming at doing a minimum of one (1) project for each of the seven (7) areas of focus of Rotary International. This Rotary Year, however, under the leadership of Pres. Rey Collin Jubac and in line with the theme: Serve to Change Lives, the club decided to concentrate more on two (2) areas of focus, namely: Community Economic Development and Support for the Environment. This decision will ensure that the initiatives followed by the previous Rotary year under Immediate Past Pres. Alex Nale Bongawan will be continued.

A visit at Land Thai Hills, Barangay Lombog, Guindulman, Bohol

Community Economic Development

At the start of Rotary Year 2020-2021, even still with no vaccine on sight, the Rotary Club of Tagbilaran, held fellowship meetings in some little known in-province tourist spots, restaurants & farms. Aside from being afforded with very fresh air common in those spots - which sometimes are located on hilltops, or in the middle of the greeneries of a garden or beside streams with crystal clear water - it is also very easy to implement the Covid-19 prevention protocols. Club members and guests stay safe while having the much-needed "face to face" fellowship.

Among the places visited by the club in the previous year included: Kangcaramel Cave, Edith Grand Garden Resort and Adventure Park, Barangay Tanday, Baclayon, Bohol; Bung-aw Eco Farm in Barangay Bugtong Bod, Clarin, Bohol; Barangay Laca, Jagna, Bohol – a future Wind-Boarding site; MUSFA Bohol

Organic & Strawberry Farm in Barangay Mayana, Jagna, Bohol; RJ Javier Farms, Barangay Cagawasan, Pilar, Bohol, Masagana Farms, Barangay Marawis, Valencia, Bohol; Land Thai Hills, Barangay Lombog, Guindulman, Bohol; the rain-fed rice farms in Barangay Tausion, Valencia, Bohol and the Sikatuna Mirror of the World, Barangay Libjo, Sikatuna, Bohol. Along the way to the sites, the group, most of the time, passed by several make-shift plant and flower stores where the members took time to visit and to buy plants, etc displayed

A flower store along the way to Laca, Jagna, Bohol, Philippines

To the delight of the vendors and owners. The club promoted these stores thru Facebook and other social-media platforms hoping that other plant enthusiasts will come and buy plants from their stores.

Now on its 50th Year of existence as a club and being challenged by the Covid-19 pandemic that has created financial havoc in the province, the members of the Rotary Club of Tagbilaran decided to put up a gallant fight against poverty in the countryside. Aside from revisiting sites and places in order to monitor their progress and in order be able to continue promoting their products and services in the social media, this Rotary year, the club shall continue visiting other places in the province in order to discover new and probable areas for tourists in preparation for the "new normal."

Organizing Rotary Community Corps for the Environment

In the previous Rotary year, the club conducted a Tree-Planting activity in Barangay Laca, Jagna, Bohol. In this activity the club employed locally-available labor to help plant 200 seedlings. They were also tasked to maintain the newly-planted trees until they could live on their own. This gave the club the idea of organizing Rotary Community Corps (RCC) for the environment. This led to the organization of the Bohol Enviro-friends Rotary Community Corps. Full operation of this RCC is targeted to start in the month of October 2021.

During the tree-planting activity conducted in Laca, Jagna, Bohol, the land planted with trees is owned by a couple-member. In the next tree-planting activities the club will, again, bank on the availability of idle lands owned by club members as the first option. The second option is to look for idle lands, suitable for tree planting, owned by non-Rotarians who will offer and give full consent to the activity thru the signing of a Memorandum of Agreement. In all areas, Rotary Community Corps will be employed in tree planting and maintenance of newly-planted trees.

Preservation of Rain-fed Rice Farms and Promotion of Rice Farming

ROTARY INFORMATION

While distributing fertilizers to rice farmers in Barangay Tausion, Valencia, Bohol, Philippines, some club

RC Tagbilaran Rotarians & Rotaractors tried to discover if "Planting Rice is Never Fun" is a reality by doing the actual work.

Members observed that the cultivated areas are getting smaller. Portions are becoming idle lands. This condition could be affected by climate change, however, a few members posted the question, "Who will continue to till the farms in the next generation?" Scarcity of rice farmers could be one cause of the decline of the cultivated areas. With society favoring employment in modern industries, thousands of farm lands will be neglected in the future. The club came to the realization that future farmers must be encouraged to remain and till the lands. Something has to be done to make rice farming as lucrative as the modern-industry jobs. Enhancing the public image of rice farmers as food providers must be done seriously, like how Rotary is promoting its public image to the world.

In order to motivate future rice farmers, club members decided to conduct a "Planting Rice" project on July 9, 2021. It was a fun activity with a lunch-picnic that was done on dry grounds beside the paddies. With good infrastructure and good amenities, like campsite equipped with good rest rooms, cooking areas, stores, etc., club members concluded that rain-fed-rice farming can be promoted for tourism. If realized it will boost the income of local rice farmers.

A Better Place for the Future Generation

Picnic on dry ground beside the rice paddies is fun and can be promoted for tourism in the countryside.

A very simple yet green ambience of PAINITAN SA BAYBAY, a family snack stop located in Barangay Tubod Mar, Jagna, Bohol.
