About the Cover

Dynamic participation and support of Rotary Club of Tagum Golden Laces to the Rotary's seventh area of the focus which is supporting the environment has never at all been hindered by this pandemic.

RCT Golden LACES members, at their chosen locations, planted trees in their candid effort and desire to be a part of the global campaign to support the environment.

The collage of collected photos formation of a heart indicates that it is love that drives Rotary ladies to plant trees in support of the environment.

Prayer

Creator God, during this time of pandemic you invite us into a time of conversion and reflection upon our relationship to others. Our caring for others is a greater joy, but also a grave responsibility and there are times when we feel that we shall stumble under its weight. As we begin the discussions of today, we ask you to draw near and be with us. In our conversations with one another may we come to get richer understanding of the common good of all creation that you have asked us to guard. Deepen our appreciation for both human dignity and human limits. Guide us to see implications of our ideas for the real, living persons that our health systems serve. The glory of your name through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

PRESIDENT'S COLUMN

PE Judy Marie R. Tan, PHF
President

The seventh area of focus of Rotary: supporting the environment, has been officially implemented after it was unanimously approved by Rotary Foundation and Rotary International Board of Directors.

For the past five years, the Rotary Foundation has allocated over $18 million for the environment related projects.

Creation of an apparent area of focus to support the environment will definitely provide Rotary members numerous ways to bring about positive change in the world and will likewise increase our relevance and impact.

RI Pres. Mark Maloney states that in the course of his travels around the world as a Rotary Senior leader, he encountered many Rotary members and Rotaractors who advocated for the environment to be an area of focus. He further states that Rotary Foundation programs now have valuable added dimension to our efforts.

Foundation Trustee Chair Gary C.K Huang says that with the global population reaching almost eight billion, protecting the environment has more than ever become highly important. He further stressed that it is time for us to use our collective resources to invest in a smart and efficient way of protecting our environment and that being a global group of problem solvers with diversified talents; we are qualified to take this initiatives.

Working as a club at this time of the pandemic may seem impossible. However, I am always grateful for the spirit of service instilled by Rotary within our hearts as Rotarians.

The continuing contributions to The Rotary Foundation is a manifestation that even though we cannot be physically present to implement service projects, we still give a part of ourselves to go on with our mission as Rotarians.

Last Monday, April 12, 2021, I had the chance to join the 19th Regular Meeting of the Rotary Club of Loyola Heights in Quezon City. Of course, I was not there physically as the meeting was virtual. However, I was able to hear and see the burning desire of our fellow Rotarians to continue with service despite the limitations set by this pandemic notwithstanding the fact that they lost two members in the battle against COVID 19. It is worthy to emphasize that their area is one of the most affected in this pandemic yet they still continue to work as a club.

I am sharing these thoughts to continue to inspire each of us despite the challenges and adversities. Indeed, we can learn and be inspired by others.

Linked through Sister Cities, Rotarians Save Newborns in Brazil

By Vanessa Glavinskas

A mother is in labor, and she's frightened. Her baby isn't due for three months. The closest hospital is 30 miles away, and although she makes it there in time, the baby is born weighing barely 2 pounds.

And there's another problem.

The hospital's neonatal intensive care unit has only seven incubators, and all are in use, so the baby must be transferred to another hospital to receive the critical care he needs. If he survives the transfer, his parents will need to find a way to make trips to that hospital for months.

Many new mothers were facing similar situations at Dr. Leopoldo Bevilacqua Regional Hospital, a state-run facility in Brazil's Ribeira Valley. Lack of equipment meant some of the hospital's most vulnerable newborns had to be transferred, which was a factor in São Paulo state's high infant mortality rate.

By adding five incubators to the NICU, the hospital nearly doubled the number of babies its nurses and doctors can care for.

"There are two realities here: people who can pay for a private hospital and those who can't," says Lina Shimizu, who spearheaded the project for the Rotary Club of Registro-Ouro, Brazil. Those who can't, she says, often have to travel long distances to get to a state-run hospital such as Leopoldo Bevilacqua, which serves 24 towns.

The Rotary Club of Registro-Ouro and the Rotary Club of Registro partnered on a Rotary Foundation global grant with two clubs in Nakatsugawa, Japan.

Through the partnership, Brazilian Rotarians raised $172,500. They funded equipment including five incubators for the hospital's neonatal intensive care unit (NICU), which nearly doubled the hospital's capacity to care for fragile newborns. In 2013, 129 babies were admitted to the NICU; since the completion of the project, the hospital has been able to care for about 220 babies per year.

Other equipment provided through the grant included five ventilators, a bilirubin meter, three heated cribs, five vital-sign monitors, and a super LED microprocessed phototherapy unit to treat babies with jaundice. The grant also funded the cost of publicity to inform residents about prenatal care workshops conducted by area health workers. The publicity campaign aimed to reach mothers in remote areas who may not know what services are available to them or about the importance of prenatal care and breast-feeding.

The Rotary clubs also used the grant to launch a publicity campaign on importance of prenatal care and breast-feeding.

This global grant marked a turning point for Rotarians in Nakatsugawa, who had stopped contributing to international projects after experiencing difficulties on a past grant. The difference this time was in the relationship between the cities of Registro and Nakatsugawa, which established a "sister city" affiliation in 1980.

Rotarians from both cities meet regularly to foster their friendships, alternating between Brazil and Japan, and because of their close relationship, the Japanese Rotarians felt confident that their financial contributions to the project would be managed well. In addition, Shimizu, who is of Japanese descent and speaks fluent Japanese, helped build trust and effective communication.

A group of Japanese Rotarians visited the NICU after the project was completed. "After 37 years," says Mitsuo Hara, a member of the Rotary Club of Nakatsugawa, "there's a friendship and bond between Rotary members of both countries."

ROTARY CLUB OF TAGUM GOLDEN LACES HISTORY

The idea of organizing an all-female Rotary Club of Tagum was thought of as early as 1989 by the Rotarian and Anns of RC Tagum North. The initial organizing of the club however started only sometime in the first week of February 1991.

The names of 28 selected ladies were first floated by the Rotarians & Anns of RC Tagum North. Out of this number, 16 responded by attending the first organizational meeting held at Magnolia Kiosk along Quezon St., Tagum. Other ladies were later invited to the regular weekly meetings as prospective members of the club although their attendance along with some of those who were initially invited were irregular. In this organizational meetings, Rotary Information was given by Rtn. Jess Albacite, Special Governor's Representative and PP of RC Tagum North, Rtn. Rey Vegara, Incumbent President RC Tagum North, Rtn. Bebot Madayag, District Governor's Representative & PP of RC Tagum. Other Rotarians who helped in giving various information included Rtn.
