Happy Valentine's month, everyone!
Gōng xǐ fā cái!

The Rotary monthly observance this time around is Peace & Conflict Prevention Month, as shared by PE Vida Könst. We also shared an article about a peace fellow applying into practice what she learned by gathering data to form policy recommendations to achieve more diversity in the nuclear energy sector on a global scale.

Pres. Ma-em Zhang also prepared an article about how prosthetic eyes have helped out children with retinoblastoma.

Cheers!

Dear Heavenly Father,
We thank you for the opportunity to come together and make a positive impact in our communities and the world. We pray for wisdom, guidance, and strength as we carry out our projects and initiatives.

Help us to discern the needs of others and respond with compassion, generosity, and selflessness. May our actions and service reflect your love and grace. Grant us the ability to work together towards common goals.

Bless all the leaders of our Rotary Club with wisdom and vision, that they may guide us in ways that honor our values and further our mission. Inspire us to be ambassadors of peace, harmony, and goodwill.

May our Rotary Club be a beacon of hope and compassion in our communities, a testament to the power of "Service Above Self." As we go out may we make a difference in the lives of others and leave a lasting, positive impact. In your name, we pray.

AMEN.

In the last 32 years, RCWWD has accomplished 10 TRF Grants and 12 combined WCS/RC Narashino projects/4 District Grants; sponsored 9 and hosted 11 GSE members; sponsored 1 and hosted 2 RYE students; hosted 5 Rotarians on an Individual Friendship Exchange (USA & Canada); forged 12 sisterhood ties with Rotary Clubs in Australia, USA, India, and within the Philippines; organized several Rotary, Rotaract, and Interact Clubs, as well as RCCs; and spearheaded Zone and District activities.

PRESIDENT'S

Dear Ladies in Red,

Happy Valentine's! Happy
Chinese New Year! Happy
Birthday Rotary!

February is a special month for
Rotary as we celebrate the Rotary Week.

Every year, Rotarians around the world celebrate Rotary Week to commemorate its founding in 1905. World Rotary Week is a time for celebrating the success and importance of Rotary and its cause. For Rotary International District 3860 Area 2, our Rotary Week is scheduled on February 18 to 24, 2024, commencing with a motorcade and Rotary Showcase of the Club activities. During this week, we will also participate in Empowering Women, Mangrove Tree Planting, Peace Forum and Job Fair.

MESSAGE

PRESIDENT'S

I thank you ladies for your constant support and unwavering dedication to the club and our purpose to be of service above self and to be a beacon of hope to the community.

Our community has also been severely affected by the flooding due to the non-stop rains brought by the trough of the low pressure area (LPA). And a brother is born for adversity. I thank all the generous donors for sharing in kind, time, and resources to support this dire situation. Thank you to PP Remedios Calaguas for opening her office as a sorting venue and for PP/Director of Community Service Herminia Polintan for spearheading this outreach. Thank you to BOT of RCWWDFI Chair PP Maria Luisa Jacinto and all the officers for the assistance and support. Here it is evident that the steward's need to give is more than the affected's need to receive.

PRESIDENT'S

For Rotary, February is also celebrated as Peace Building and Conflict Resolution. As Martin Luther King Jr. said, "Peace is not merely an absence of war but the presence of justice, of law, of order." To add, "it involves fostering an environment of good health, joy and security, which in turn facilitates the growth and prosperity of the community."

Yours in Service,

MESSAGE

Peace Fellow Transforms Academic Theory into Practical Application

Written by JP Swenson

Gethen is in the midst of an ice age. It's a bitterly cold planet where even the warmest summer day is frigid. This is where Florence Maher spent her childhood. Figuratively speaking, of course. Gethen exists only in the tales of Ursula K. Le Guin, predominantly in her 1969 novel, The Left Hand of Darkness, one of many speculative works of fiction that Maher grew up reading.

"A lot of science fiction looks at social issues, but in a different context," Maher says. "It allows you to ask big questions about how the world would be different if things had evolved in a different way. I'm very interested in those sorts of structural issues and how they look in practice."

As an adult, Maher continues to ask those big questions as she looks for ways to maximize her knowledge and skills by pairing them with global institutions.

Peace Fellow Transforms Academic Theory into Practical Application

Written by JP Swenson

Today, this Rotary Peace Fellow works as a social scientist for the Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development, gathering data and forming policy recommendations to achieve more diversity in the nuclear energy sector on a global scale.

Growing up, rural Oregon (on planet Earth) was home base for Maher, but her father's work took the family all over the Pacific Northwest, including Alaska. However, one move took them to Berlin for two years soon after the reunification of Germany in the 1990s. "That was the moment I realized there's a bigger world out there," she says. "That experience started me down an international career path."

Maher spent two years at Earlham College in Indiana (where the undergraduate student population totaled about 1,100) before taking time off to backpack around India and work as an au pair in Germany.

Peace Fellow Transforms Academic Theory into Practical Application

Written by JP Swenson

“By the time I had finished scratching that itch, I realized I was not going back to Indiana,” she says. “I wanted to do something different.”

Although she was interested in the world, she didn’t know a lot about her own country. She wanted to put herself in situations where she could grow, she said, and she completed her last two years of studies at Howard University, a historically Black college in Washington, D.C., to learn more about diversity in the United States. Being a white student at Howard, she tried to be respectful of the history and traditions in that welcoming environment, to learn without being the “center of attention,” she says. “As a white person, this is not my space. I’m here to shut up and listen.”

Prosthetic Eyes for Children Battling Retinoblastoma

EYE ON HOPE

Introduction

Retinoblastoma, a rare and aggressive form of eye cancer affecting children, not only poses a grave threat to their health but also leaves a lasting impact on their appearance and self-esteem. The journey to recovery involves not only medical treatments but also the restoration of a child's sense of normalcy. One significant aspect of this restoration is providing artificial eyes, a crucial step in helping these brave young souls regain confidence and hope. This write-up delves into the importance of sponsorship in providing artificial eyes for children diagnosed with retinoblastoma.

Prosthetic Eye for Children Battling Retinoblastoma

- The Impact of Retinoblastoma
- Role of Artificial Eye
- Challenges in Affordability
- Power of Sponsorship

THE IMPACT OF RETINOBLASTOMA

Retinoblastoma strikes early in life, often before the age of five. The necessity for intense treatments, such as surgery, chemotherapy, and radiation, leaves many children with the loss of one or both eyes through enucleation process. All connections to the orbit, including the optic nerve, are severed. Beyond the physical challenges, these youngsters face emotional and psychological hurdles as they adapt to life with altered appearances.

THE ROLE OF ARTIFICIAL EYES

Artificial eyes, or ocular prosthetics, serve as a remarkable solution for children who have lost an eye due to retinoblastoma. Not only do they restore a more natural appearance, but they also contribute to the emotional healing process, allowing these children to re-engage with the world confidently. This can allow for proper eyelid movements and lower the incidence of ulceration. A well-fitted and aesthetically pleasing artificial eye plays a pivotal role in their social integration and self-acceptance.

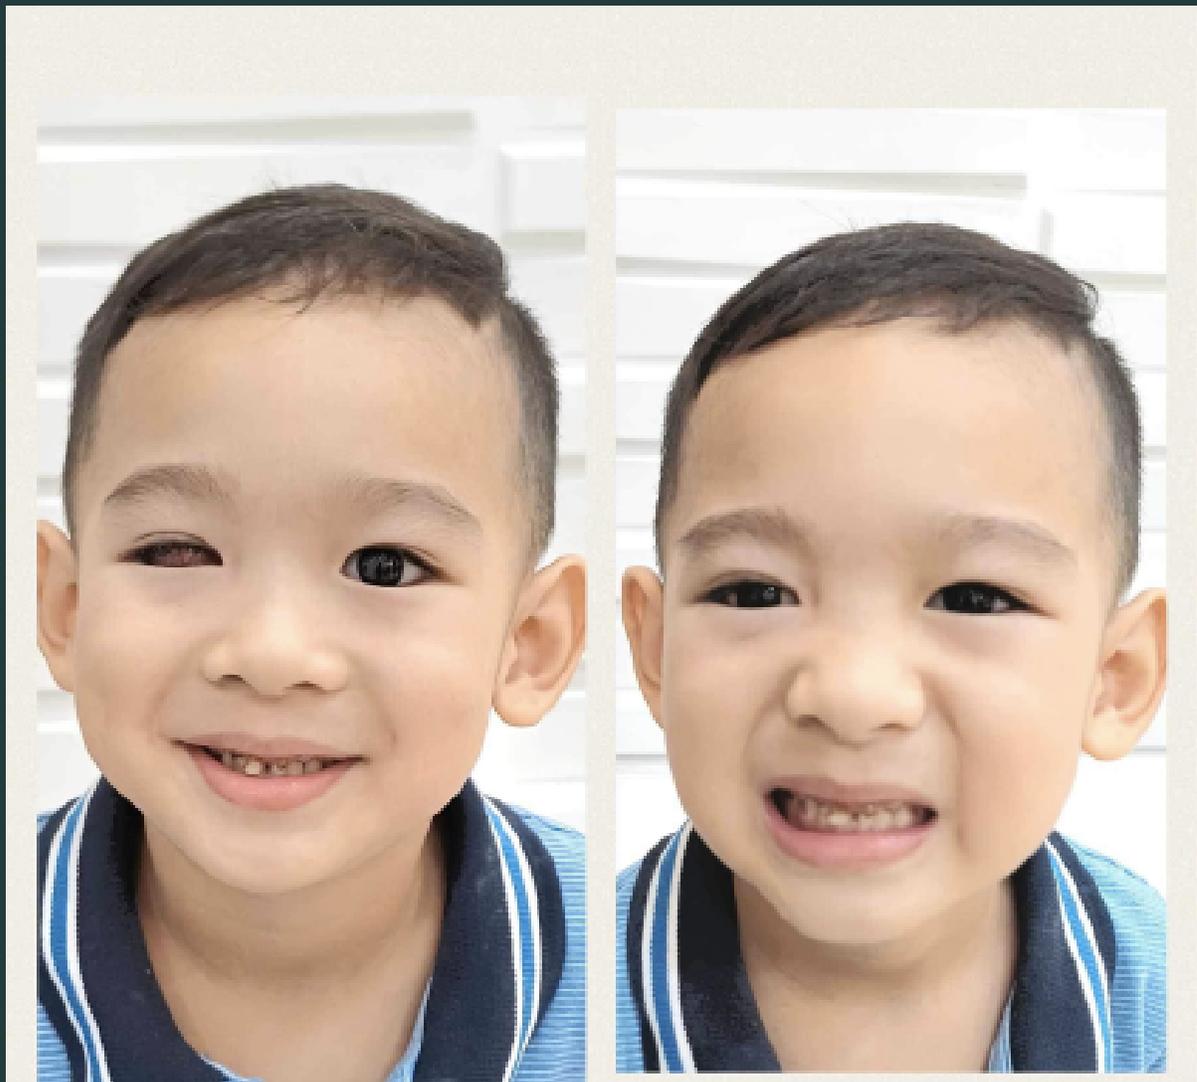

CHALLENGES IN AFFORDABILITY

Despite the undeniable benefits of artificial eyes, their cost can be a significant barrier for many families affected by retinoblastoma. The financial burden of medical treatments often leaves little room for such additional expenses. Sponsorship programs emerge as a lifeline, bridging the gap between the necessity of artificial eyes and the financial constraints faced by families grappling with their child's diagnosis.

THE POWER OF SPONSORSHIP

Sponsorship initiatives can make a tangible difference in the lives of these young cancer survivors. The Rotary Club of Waling Waling Davao and its generous member supports this cause with Thomas Jamora as the Optometrist, to ensure that children from House of Hope, a half way home for kids battling cancer, especially those diagnosed with retinoblastoma has access to high-quality artificial eyes, regardless of their financial circumstances. Sponsors play a crucial role in not only funding the prosthetics but also fostering a sense of community support that goes beyond the physical restoration.

KIDS FITTED WITH THEIR NEW PROSTHETIC EYE

HOW TO GET INVOLVED

Supporting this project can bring a ray of hope to the lives of these courageous warriors. By partnering with organizations and individuals willing to contribute, more children can benefit from this project, creating hope one child at a time.

CONCLUSION

Aid for children diagnosed with retinoblastoma by providing prosthetic eye can be a beacon of hope in the challenging journey of recovery. By recognizing the importance of restoring not just physical but also emotional well-being, we can make a lasting difference in the lives of these young warriors. Together, through sponsorship and collective efforts, we can empower them to face the future with resilience and optimism.

GOING ABOVE & BEYOND WHAT DEI MEANS

PT. XIII

Calodagh McCumiskey, a member of the Rotary Club of Wexford, Ireland, specializes in creating corporate well-being programs. Her global perspective stemmed from her birth in Ireland, a year living in Bahrain, and aid work in Africa and Asia during her college years where she studied the economics of developing countries.

Her advice? "Stress is more about how you respond to what happens rather than what actually happens. A lot of stress is created by focusing on what you don't want. Focus on what you want. Live a life you don't need to escape from."

3. Will it build GOOD WILL and BETTER FRIENDSHIPS?
4. Will it be BENEFICIAL to all concerned?

THE OBJECT OF ROTARY

The object of Rotary is to encourage and foster the ideal of service as a basis of worthy enterprise, and, in particular, to encourage and foster:

FIRST, the development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service;

SECOND, high ethical standards in business and professions; the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations, and the dignifying of each Rotarian's occupation as an opportunity to serve society;

THIRD, the application of the ideal of service in each Rotarian's personal and community life;

FOURTH, the advancement of international understanding, good will, and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional persons united in the ideal of service.

CORE VALUES: SERVICE · FELLOWSHIP · DIVERSITY · INTEGRITY · LEADERSHIP

ROTARIAN CODE OF CONDUCT

As a Rotarian, I will:

1. Act with integrity and high ethical standards in my personal and professional life;
2. Deal fairly with others and treat them and their occupations with respect;
3. Use my professional skills through Rotary to mentor young people, help those with special needs, and improve people's quality of life in my community and in the world;
4. Avoid behavior that reflects adversely on Rotary or other Rotarians.

ROTARY'S SEVEN AREAS OF FOCUS

For more than 100 years, Rotarians have joined together from all continents, cultures, and industries to take action in our communities and around the world. With a commitment to achieving lasting change, we work together to empower youth, enhance health, promote peace, and most importantly, advance the community.

While Rotarians can serve in countless ways, Rotary has focused its efforts in seven areas, which reflect some of the most critical and widespread humanitarian needs:

1. Peace and conflict prevention/resolution
2. Disease prevention and treatment
3. Water and sanitation
4. Maternal and child health
5. Basic education and literacy
6. Economic and community development
7. Supporting the environment
