EDITOR'S NOTE

Welcome to another issue of Bloomscoop!

Keeping it short and sweet, this issue is also as straightforward as it gets. From having our Contributing Editor, DPC/PP Maribel Vilela sharing the ROTARY THEME OF THE MONTH, to our Managing Editor, Asst Treas/Dir Leamie Retales publishing her write-up on relating DEI to THE MAGIC OF ROTARY theme, it's as light as a dollop of whipped cream on vanilla ice cream on a hot summer day.

Happy reading!

Pres Maria Vida Könst

Today we are thankful for the district leaders of Rotary. We are thankful they are willing to give their time and their talent, willing to risk, and willing to inspire each of us to become the best we can be. We are thankful for their sacrifices and their ingenuity. We are thankful for their experience and wisdom. We are thankful that Rotary brings together opportunities to improve our community and our world. We are thankful that we are together today, ready to learn and be inspired for another year of service. As we enjoy our fellowship, one with another, may we grow in stature, so that we may be able to give more to our friends in Rotary, and in turn give strength to the ideals of Rotary in the service of mankind.

AMEN.

THE PLAYMAKER

President Stephanie Urchick is ready to lead Rotary toward another winning season

It's a frigid January night, the second in a row to dip below zero degrees Fahrenheit in Chicago.

Schools are closed, events canceled, flights grounded. Outside an arctic blast is howling, but inside Stephanie Urchick's condo, the party is sizzling.

Urchick wears jeans and a Pittsburgh Steelers T-shirt with a "Magic of Rotary" pin affixed. Draped over one of her shoulders is a "Terrible Towel," an iconic yellow dish towel-size piece of fabric that stalwart fans of the American football team wave to rally their team. The occasional cheer or groan punctuates the party's chatter.

THE PLAYMAKER

By Diana Schoberg, Photography by
Christine Armbruster

This playoff game between the Steelers and the Buffalo Bills has already been rescheduled once because of the dangerous winter weather sweeping across the United States. A group of Rotarians visiting Rotary headquarters was stuck in suburban Evanston because of a flight delay, and Urchick invited them to watch the game with her. The 2024-25 Rotary International president, Urchick has just returned from a trip to the International Assembly in Orlando. She pulls out some pierogi, a type of Polish dumpling, from her freezer and sets out beverages of all kinds for her unexpected guests.

To call Urchick a sports fan might be a Hall of Fame-worthy understatement. At her home in Canonsburg, Pennsylvania, about 20 minutes outside Pittsburgh, Urchick's basement "woman cave" is floor to ceiling Pittsburgh sports: 1990s-era cereal boxes featuring baseball great Roberto Clemente and the Stanley Cup-winning Pittsburgh Penguins hockey team; photos of her with Pittsburgh sports legends including Steelers running back Rocky Bleier, along with one of Bleier's framed jerseys; a Steelers piggy bank; Penguins hockey pucks; a signed football; a collection of tickets; a Steelers quilt. Her most recent acquisition is a bobblehead of Pirates baseball player Richie Hebner, whose photo Urchick plastered in her high school locker. In a nearby closet hang her two favorite uniforms: her Rotary T-shirts and her Pittsburgh fan gear.

The Bills score three touchdowns in a row to open the game, making the score 21-0 by the middle of the second quarter. Urchick steps away from the group gathered in front of the television and perches behind the kitchen counter, checking her phone and the food she's heating up in the oven.

Her enjoyment of sports extends well beyond that of a typical fan. One summer, she assisted with character analyses for Canadian Football League scouts, attending NFL training camps to watch for players who might be cut and would be a good fit for that league. (She recalls Baltimore Ravens coach John Harbaugh approaching her about her role: "I've never worked with a lady before!" "Well," she replied, "I don't bite.") She also participated in a women's training camp put on by the Steelers and run by former players; her experience was cut short after she snapped her Achilles tendon doing footwork drills through car tires. Didn't matter. "It was just a fun, fun summer," she says.

Christine Armbruster

She met the vice president of the Steelers, Art Rooney Jr., when he spoke to her Rotary club. Afterward, she brought him some chocolates from Sarris Candies, a well-known confectionery founded in Canonsburg. It's a tradition she's continued to uphold a few times a year, the two united by their love of the game.

The Magic of DEI pt. 2

In a world where inclusivity and equal opportunity are increasingly recognized as vital for progress, the Rotary Club is a shining example of how these principles can be successfully integrated into an organization's core mission. The Magic of Rotary lies in its ability to unite people from all walks of life under a common goal of service and goodwill.

Diversity: The Heartbeat of Rotary

Diversity in Rotary means embracing the distinct differences that make us unique. It encompasses varying races, ethnicities, gender, age, religion, and abilities. This diversity of experiences and perspectives sparks creativity and innovation, empowering Rotary clubs to address complex challenges with versatile solutions.

Equity: Building a Fair and Just Organization

Equity ensures that all Rotary members have access to the same opportunities and resources, enabling them to contribute fully to the club's mission. It involves recognizing and addressing systemic barriers that may prevent participation and advancement within the organization.

Inclusion: Creating a Welcoming Culture

Inclusion in Rotary means creating an environment where all members feel welcomed, respected, and valued. It is about ensuring that every voice is heard and that everyone has the opportunity to participate fully in the club's activities and decision-making processes.

By fully embracing Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion, Rotary not only stays true to its core values but also unlocks its full potential to make a difference. As Rotary continues to evolve and grow, its commitment to DEI will remain a cornerstone of its magic, enriching the lives of its members and the communities it serves.

THE FOUR- WAY TEST

OF THE THINGS WE THINK, SAY, AND DO

1. Is it the TRUTH?
2. Is it FAIR to all concerned?
3. Will it build GOOD WILL and BETTER FRIENDSHIPS?
4. Will it be BENEFICIAL to all concerned?

THE OBJECT OF ROTARY

The object of Rotary is to encourage and foster the ideal of service as a basis of worthy enterprise, and, in particular, to encourage and foster:

FIRST, the development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service;

SECOND, high ethical standards in business and professions; the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations, and the dignifying of each Rotarian's occupation as an opportunity to serve society;

THIRD, the application of the ideal of service in each Rotarian's personal and community life;

FOURTH, the advancement of international understanding, good will, and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional persons united in the ideal of service.

CORE VALUES: SERVICE · FELLOWSHIP · DIVERSITY · INTEGRITY · LEADERSHIP

ROTARIAN CODE OF CONDUCT

As a Rotarian, I will:

1. Act with integrity and high ethical standards in my personal and professional life;
2. Deal fairly with others and treat them and their occupations with respect;
3. Use my professional skills through Rotary to mentor young people, help those with special needs, and improve people's quality of life in my community and in the world;
4. Avoid behavior that reflects adversely on Rotary or other Rotarians.

ROTARY'S SEVEN AREAS OF FOCUS

For more than 100 years, Rotarians have joined together from all continents, cultures, and industries to take action in our communities and around the world. With a commitment to achieving lasting change, we work together to empower youth, enhance health, promote peace, and most importantly, advance the community.

While Rotarians can serve in countless ways, Rotary has focused its efforts in seven areas, which reflect some of the most critical and widespread humanitarian needs:

1. Peace and conflict prevention/resolution
2. Disease prevention and treatment
3. Water and sanitation
4. Maternal and child health
5. Basic education and literacy
6. Economic and community development
7. Supporting the environment
